Medusa Cement Plant Workers Accorded Honor

Nearly 200 At "Recognition Day" Dinner At The Castleton Wednesday Evening

SIX HONORED FOR LONG SERVICES

For the first time since the war began, the Medusa Portland Cement Company held its Recognition Day dinner Wednesday evening in The Castleton Hotel when six employees were admitted to the Old Timers' Club and given handsome watches as tokens of their quarter century of service.

The presentation service took place immediately after the service of the dinner with J. B. John of Cleveland, O., president of the company making the presentation. The men honored for their years of service were Cordie J. Haynes, Solomon Johnson, Frank Mielke, Charles Matthews, Anthony Scala and Harold Marshall.

Many of the officials of the company were present. President John spoke briefly, stressing the importance of safety. He reminded them they were a part of a company that held one of the most outstanding safety records in the country, one of the Medusa plants having gone 15 years without a lost time accident. He urged the men and women to keep safety foremost in their minds in their daily work. Mr. John is a former New Castle man and back shortly after the turn of the century worked here with the Lehigh Portland Cement Co.

Others Speak
Other officers who spoke were P. J. Dawson, vice president, D. A. Cavanaugh, Pittsburgh sales manager; W. J. Worthy, general superintendent; Fred Pickford, secretary, and Edward Powell, safety director. Group singing was directed by Socrates Hemmon with Rosella Haswell at the piano.

Arden Krebs, superintendent of the local plant was the toastmaster of the evening and introduced the various speakers. Like Mr. John he stressed the importance of safety in operations.

Not all of the Medusa employees were present, although nearly 200 sat down to the dinner. Some twenty-nine men whose services were needed at the plant to keep it going had their dinner prepared in The Castleton and taken down to the plant. They had to miss the program but they enjoyed the meal.

Pa Newc Observes

One local resident reports about seeing a large squirrel and four small ones playing in the branches of an elm tree on the north side.

Mrs. Roy Mumford, 856 Vogan street, reports that on Sunday her family enjoyed onions from their garden. The vegetables were planted this spring.

Something of a reminder of the blackouts of wartime was in evidence on the North Hill last night, when the street lights failed to come on for several hours in the evening. Apparently storm trouble had affected the system.

With highway rebuilding, detours and the construction of water lines throughout the district, the residents of the Walmo area will be perfectly able to recall the summer of 1947 in the next few years, Pa Newc would opine.

Among the little human interest stories to emanate from the New Castle senior high school is this one: two buddies, Pete J. Richards, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter J. Richards, and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Ricciardi, 1102 Agnew street, and Angelo Flora, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Flora, 16 Maitland street, have been in school together since the first grade and next month will be graduated in the 1947 class of senior high. The two boys started in Lincoln Garfield school in 1930.

Many Issues Confront Labor Bill Conferees

By FRANK B. ALLEN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, May 22.—House conferees on labor legislation switched to a stiffer role today and demanded that the Senate accept the "Workers' Bill of Rights" of the House measure.

House and Senate groups went into a deadlock on the issue.

At the same time, conferees agreed tentatively to moderate the ban on unions with officers "who ever were Communists." It will be revamped to ban from collective bargaining only those with officers who presently are Communists.

Rep. Landis (R) Ind., said the conferees also will write a definition to say what constitutes "a Communist" for the purposes of the act.

The "Bill of Rights" stalemate came about when House conferees openly irked by reports that they are yielding repeatedly and that the final outcome will be largely the Senate version—took a firm stand on it.

Senate conferees were equally determined to scrap the provision. Sen. Taft (R) Ohio, said it would be improper interference in the relations of unions with their members. The provisions in dispute would:

1. Give the worker full rights to join or refrain from joining a union.
2. Protect him from "unreasonable" demands.

The soft coal pits will be returned to private management on June 30 and the negotiations are aimed at drawing up a contract to cover private operation after that date.

Balkan Border Problem Defeat Seen For Russia

Implied Rebuke For Soviet Is Also Expected In U. N. Action

By PIERRE J. HUSS
(U. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., May 22.—Defeat and an implied rebuke for Soviet Russia today loomed in the United Nations Security Council over the hotly contested Balkan border problem.

The 11-nation body, thrown repeatedly into turmoil by counter-charges and denunciations hurled by one side or the other, is slated to arrive at a ruling during the day on the validity of its own subsidiary frontier "watch-dog" group currently stationed in Salonica.

The decision actually will consist of a vote on the four-point proposal placed before the council by Soviet Delegate Andrei Gromyko, in the main designed to clip the subsidiary body's functional powers and compel it to transfer its seat from Salonica to Athens.

Proposal Opposed
With the United States, Britain, China, Brazil and Australia already opposed to the Soviet proposal on the grounds that the Security Council's authority must stand and evoke unqualified obedience from Yugoslavia, Albania and Bulgaria, the defeat of Russia's move is certain.

Diplomatic sources pointed out, also, that the council's rejection of the Russian resolution will constitute a rebuke since the Soviet Union in effect championed the calculated disobedience of a United Nations edict by her three Balkan satellites. Forecasts are that only Poland will vote in favor of the Soviet proposal.

Another heated debate of the Greek border situation is likely before the 11 delegates can be brought to a vote, and the forenoon session is expected to stretch into a verbal battle until late afternoon.

Dr. C. S. Wyand, assistant to the president of Penn State college, is primarily an educator but he is also known for his broad knowledge of community problems. ## President Says U. S. Desire For Peace Is Shown

Signing Of Greco-Turkish Aid Bill Takes Place In Kansas City Hotel

SAYS U. S. SUPPORTERS PLEDGES TO U. N.

By ROBERT G. NIXON
(U. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 22.—President Truman today declared that the $400,000,000 Greco-Turkish aid bill offers concrete evidence to the world that the United States will act to support its pledges to the United Nations.

The chief executive signed the measure supporting the "Truman doctrine" of aiding those nations threatened by Communistic incursion. The signing took place in the president's hotel suite this morning.

Important Peace Step
Mr. Truman hailed the act as "an important step in the building of the peace."

He announced simultaneously that the United States ambassadors to Greece and Turkey have been instructed to open immediate negotiations with those governments to carry out the purposes of the aid measure.

Mr. Truman will announce his choice of an administrator probably tomorrow.

The president said in a brief statement, read to correspondents accompanying him, as he signed the measure:

"The act authorizing United States assistance to Greece and Turkey, which I have just signed, is an important step in the building of the peace."

"It's passage by overwhelming majorities in both houses of the Congress is proof that the United States earnestly desires peace and is willing to make a vigorous effort to help create conditions of peace."

"The conditions of peace include, (Continued on Page Two)

Mrs. Truman Is Holding Gains

President Reports No Perceptible Change In Condition Of Mother

GRANDVIEW, Mo., May 22.—(INS)—President Truman's mother continued to hold her gains today in her uphill battle for life.

The chief executive received a report at 6 a. m. from the little yellow frame cottage where his mother lies ill.

He told reporters:

"There is no perceptible change in mother's condition this morning. She is a little restless."

Press Secretary Charles G. Ross added that Mother Truman "spent a fairly comfortable night."

The president left his Kansas City hotel at 8:15 a. m. with Mrs. Bess Truman and drove to his mother's bedside.

First, at 8 o'clock, he signed the $400,000,000 Greco-Turkish aid bill in a brief ceremony in the penthouse suite atop the Muehlbach hotel.

He appeared a little more rested than last night, but the anxiety of the past week over his mother's illness and his long bedside vigil were taking their toll.

He greeted his visitors cordially, and even managed a smile or two, but his face quickly resumed its lines of worry.

Joint Korean Commission Again Meets

SEOUL, May 22.—(INS)—Russian and United States representatives on the joint Korean commission completed a three and one-half hour closed session today.

Brig. Gen. Albert E. Brown, head of the United States delegation, announced following the meeting that a decision on the question of admitting new members to the sessions would be announced tomorrow.

Brown reported "very favorable progress" was made in discussions on Korean problems and said all administrative details on the agenda of the first business meeting were disposed of.

Silent On Discussions

The American general said that by mutual agreement with the Russians he was unable to reveal the topics discussed.

Newsmen were not allowed to circulate freely in the building where the commission meeting was held, but were confined to a small room in the basement.

General Brown had no comment on the attitude of two Korean rightist leaders, Rhee Syngman and Kim Koo, who announced yesterday they were "boycotting" the commission.

The Korean leaders apparently had a change of heart today and issued a joint statement indicating a modification of their stand.

3. Allow workers to "freely express their views" without being subjected to disciplinary action by unions.

4. Require that union affairs be "conducted in a manner that is fair to members and in conformity with the free will of a majority of its members."

Voicing Senate opposition, Taft said:

"We prefer not to try to regulate the relations between a union and its members to a point where every individual dispute might become a Labor Relations Board case."

He declared that the Senate provision, which provides that a union shop employer need not discharge a man dismissed by a union for reasons other than non-payment of dues would cover the point.

Taft added, however, that the senate was willing to include a proviso that the dues must be "reasonable," but the House rejected the compromise.

Council Speeds Paving Contract

To Have Entrance To Cascade Park Paved—Other News Of Council

When council met Thursday in city hall, Parks Director Joseph D. Alexander introduced a bill which provides for the paving of the east entrance and a driveway in Cascade Park. The bill provides for a contract with the Interstate Amiesite company to do the work for $5,140. The ordinance was sent to committee and was reported out favorably and ordered sent to the printing office, pending final passage.

Morris Knowles Engineers, Inc., of Pittsburgh, will send a representative to this city to confer with members of council and the zoning board relative to a re-arrangement of zoning here next year. The conference will occur the first week in June.

Council authorized the proper officials today to sign a contract whereby the city will pay, as its share, $725, for the resurfacing of Atlantic avenue. The state will do the work. The $725, is for the raising of catch basins, monuments and paving intersections.

Freak 'Twister' Takes Boy's Life Near Reading, Pa.

Building In Which He Had Taken Refuge Is Hurled About 100 Feet

READING, Pa., May 22.—(INS)—A freakish "twister" was responsible today for the death of a 13-year-old boy when a building in which he had taken refuge was hurled 100 feet.

The boy, Paul D. Kline, and his younger brother, Daniel, 10, went into the building, a frame structure on their father's farm, when a heavy rainstorm swept the area.

Daniel was carried into the air with his older brother but escaped with minor injuries when he was thrown clear of the structure when it began to fall.

Pinned in Wreckage Paul was pinned in the crumbling wreckage, but Daniel was found by rescuers near the debris unharmed except for a scratched nose.

Police said the boys stood on a small wooden platform near the entrance to the building and watched the downpour.

Suddenly the twister struck, wrenched the walls from the foundations and blew them and the platform containing the Kline brothers through the air.

Both boys screamed as the structure made a wide arc in the air. Daniel was thrown clear at the last minute, but Paul was trapped.

The U. S. toy industry had a record $250,000,000 business in 1946.

Mickey Rooney's Second Wife Seeks Greater Allowance

Alabama Beauty Charges That Rooney Misrepresents His Income

HOLLYWOOD, May 22.—(INS)—Betty Jane Rooney, second wife of screen star Mickey Rooney, today left it up to the courts to decide how much money she should receive for support of herself and their two children.

She declared in a suit for separate maintenance the actor "fraudulently" induced her to sign a $15,000-a-year property settlement which Rooney said, represented nearly half his income.

Mrs. Rooney, who was "Miss Birmingham of 1944," said Rooney misrepresented his annual income. She charged the star is worth $350,000 per year, and not $36,000 as he asserted last January.

The Alabama beauty further declared she was sent home to Birmingham last October to have her second child. Rooney's attorney, Morton Brislin, visited her in January and told her the actor wanted a separation.

Mrs. Rooney said she signed the $15,000-a-year agreement without the benefit of counsel and while she was in a "weakened physical condition" following the birth of Timothy.

Mickey Rooney earns $250,000 a year at Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios and realizes an additional $100,000 from an enterprise known as "Mickey Rooney, Inc.," the actor's wife stated in her suit.

a ten-cents-a-ton "royalty" on coal and the same pay for eight hours work that the miners now are getting for nine hours.

The UMW chieftain actually is conferring with only three-fourths of the soft coal operators in the current talks. The southern operators, which represent 25 per cent of U. S. bituminous tonnage, have refused to join in industry-wide bargaining.

LAUGHTER

Set a man to laughing, he,
For the time, is worry free.
Put a smile upon his lips,
From the bonds of care he slips.
Give him laughter, and you take
From him every hurt and ache.

Set a man to laughing, he,
For the time, is burden free.
Loss and failure are forgot;
Little slights remembered not.
Give him laughter, and the gift
Every weight he bears will lift.

For that merry moment brief,
Laughter is a cure for grief.
For the pains that men endure
Set a man to laughing, he.
For the time, is trouble free.

Washington Calling

By Marquis Childs

New York Record And Washington's

ALBANY, N. Y., May 22.—In Washington, the Republicans in congress are swinging the economy meat-axe. Here in New York state, a Republican governor and the Republican legislature have in many instances set record budget expenditures.

The state is in a flourishing condition, with a half-billion-dollar fund available for reconstruction. The federal government is saddled with a debt that costs $5,000,000,000 a year just for interest. This is the kind of contrast which the Dewey team is counting on for 1948.

But the contrast on the spending side is even sharper. In his broadcast "Report to the people" on the last legislative session, Gov. Dewey said:

Dewey's Forecast

"The recreation facilities of our state—our parks, our forest preserves, our lakes and streams—will soon be providing summer health and relaxation for many millions of our people. This year the conservation department has the largest sum ever made available for conservation work in our state. As soon as conditions permit us to go ahead, our conservation plant will be improved and our breeding program of fish and game will go forward as never before. We still have much to do in this field, in fighting pollution in our waters, in the erosion of our land, in building up our forests. It is imperative that in the years ahead we attend more vigorously and more completely to our natural resources."

That has an odd sound when you remember that congress has cut so deeply into the budget for the department of the interior that it will be difficult to keep the national parks open this summer unless the cuts are restored in part at least.

The World and the Mud Puddles

HARD ON THE REST OF US

Labor Unions, municipal utilities, gas and insurance companies, mutual insurance companies and even the sacrosanct Tennessee Valley Authority, pay no taxes to the government of the United States. The idea is not new as applied to co-operatives, etc., but it comes as a revolutionary thought in connection with the TVA.

What is the TVA? It is a government-built and government-financed project to give a few thousand people in Tennessee cheap light and power. How do they get it cheap? Because the people of the remainder of the United States—John Smith in Chicago and Jim Jones in San Francisco—pay taxes. Does the TVA pay taxes, like its private competitors, including the late Wendell Willkie's Commonwealth and Southern? No. It is a "public" project and pays no taxes.

Rest Of Country Pays

The people served in the Tennessee Valley pay for their light and power a great deal less than it costs to produce that light and power and who pays the bill? The taxpayers of the rest of the country, as well as the taxpayers in the Tennessee Valley. This is a thing that the national taxpayer should remember—that every cent of taxes levied or avoided by others must be made up by himself.

The small town merchant who sees the members of a farm co-operative buying merchandise at a discount from wholesalers is paying the taxes from which the co-operative is exempt. The mutual insurance company has its taxes paid by the policy-holders of the regular insurance companies.

Labor Unions Pay No Taxes

The Labor Union pay no taxes. They are exempt—mistakenly so—and under the Sherman Act, they are not considered—although they are the greatest offenders in the nation—as organizations tending to the restraint of trade. Mr. Whitney, head of the Railroad Brotherhood, would spend forty-seven million dollars to "beat Truman" (Whitney's Brotherhood has a big flourishing bank in Cleveland), because he was opposed to granting Whitney's demands.

The members of the Unions get no financial statement from their officers showing how much money is in the treasury; how much money has been paid out by the Unions to the various officers; how their own money contributed to the Union is used for any purpose whatsoever. I believe that the Union should be incorporated; they should make a regular return to the government just as any other corporation does—a public document open to all members of the Union, and pay their taxes the same as other corporations.

ABOLISH UNITED NATIONS VETO?

We are hearing a great deal now to the effect that the only way to make the United Nations organization effective is to abolish the veto. A little thought on the subject, however, will lead one to the conclusion that rather than helping the U. N. organization the abolition of the veto might well bring its end visibly nearer.

In the first place, it may be stated that the U. N. veto is not to be confused in effect with the presidential veto as provided in the Constitution of the United States. When the President vetoes a measure Congress can still write it into law by a two-thirds vote in both houses. In the U. N., however, once a proposition is vetoed that is the end of the matter.

The veto was established in the first place to stop action on a possible case which one of the great powers did not want considered. If this absolute veto had not been provided it is doubtful whether Russia would have joined the U. N. The other powers were so anxious to have Russia as a member that they were willing to agree to the veto. There were many people in the United States who approved of it from our own standpoint. They regarded the veto rightfully as a greater reservation to U. N. membership than all of the reservations in the old League of Nations covenant to which President Wilson objected so vehemently.

Now if the veto in the U. N. should be abolished or modified so that a measure could be passed over the protest of an objector by a three-fourths vote, it is very doubtful whether this would expedite matters. The Big Powers, especially Russia, agreed to the veto so that they might stop a proposal which they regarded as vitally against their interests. And veto or no veto, it is highly doubtful whether any power would agree to action which it believed might affect its vital interests detrimentally. It would doubtless refuse to agree to such action in any event, and this might conceivably mean the end of the United Nations. It would at least bring a real showdown. But that is something the U. N. will have to have sooner or later if it is really to establish world authority.

HELP THE DRIVER

Particular emphasis was laid on pedestrian fatalities by traffic safety committee of the American Automobile Association, meeting in Washington last week. Discussion brought out that two of every five persons killed in motor accidents are pedestrians—and that the ratio is likely to rise higher with the expected heavy increase in travel on the highways.

It will rise higher, that is, unless both those who drive and those who walk exercise more care than they have in the past. Present habits result in more than 12,000 pedestrians losing their lives each year and 200,000 being injured.

But members of the committee did not content themselves with issuing warnings. They also considered means of reducing danger to pedestrians and in this connection they brought out some interesting facts. One is that two of three persons killed in traffic accidents in cities are pedestrians. Another is that the record of women pedestrians, over a five-year period, has been four and one-half times better than that of men.

One reason for this, according to a report made to the committee, is that women wear lighter-colored clothes than men. Their stockings, especially, make them visible at night at much greater distances than men in dark suits.

Obviously, many persons fail to understand the driver's problem. But obviously, too, more can be done to help him. Shoes to reflect light might be the answer or possibly a reflector for use when crossing dark streets or walking on highways would do the trick. Something along this line is needed and needed now.

Unless there is a reversal of the trend which sees more people killed and maimed in highway accidents each year, drastic restrictions on driving making it difficult for many persons to obtain licenses will result.

Stalin's two aces in the hole seem to be Veto and Tito.

The trouble with waiting to retire until you have enough money that you may do as you please is that when that time arrives you are too old.

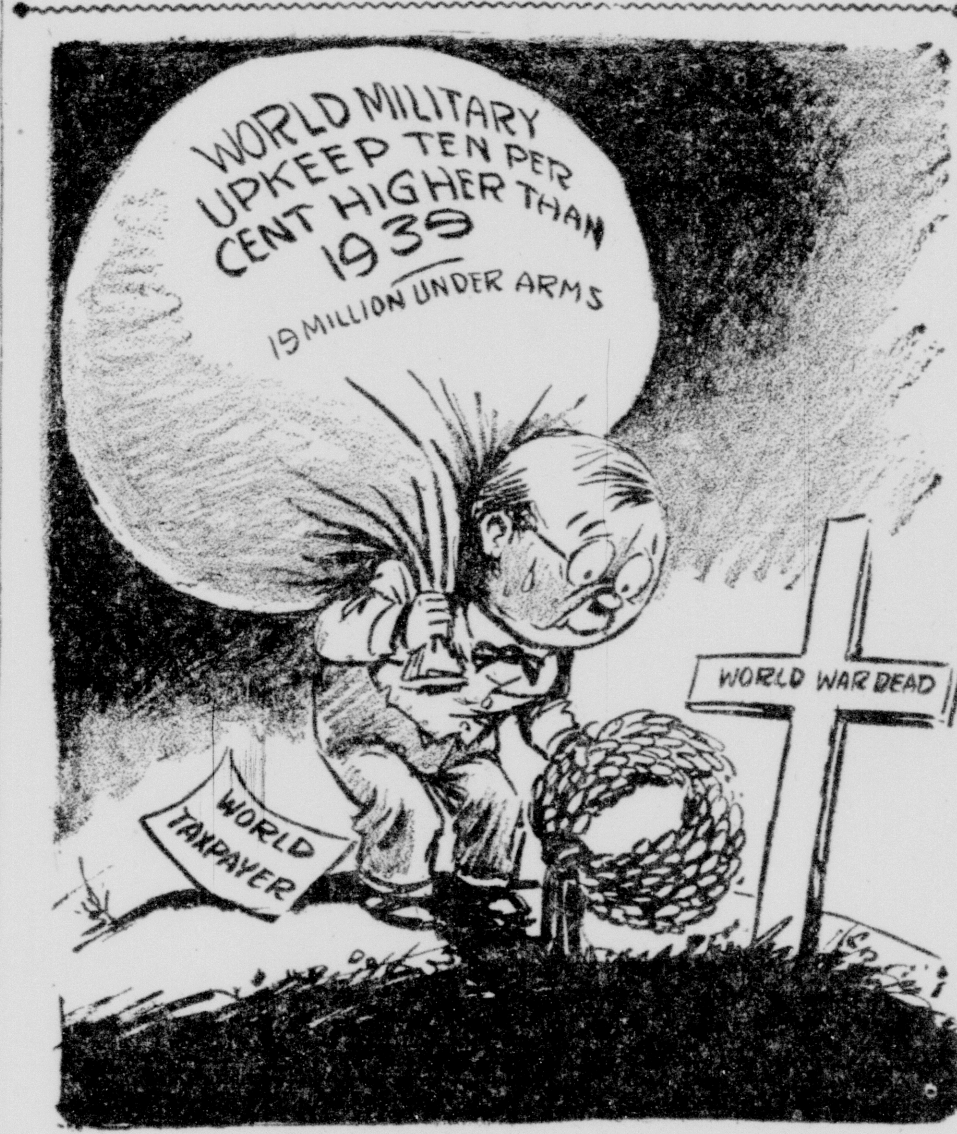

A friend of ours says he likes touring the Mohave desert because there are so few places where you are not allowed to make a left-hand turn.

Secretary of the Treasury says a period of tax reduction "is approaching." Would 1948, presidential election year, be as good a time as any, John?

When asked whether he would run for President in 1948 Henry Wallace said: "You can't tell what I'll do next year." No truer words were ever spoken.

Once in a while you hear someone complain that soap costs more now than it did under the OPA. Which is true, but now you can get the soap. And it was a little difficult to do a nice washing with a suds of ceiling prices and hot water.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

CREATING A READING PROBLEM

From one of the very many broken homes come the following account of a boy, 9, (with a sister, 6). What ever other factors are involved, there can be no doubt that this boy's lag at book learning, especially reading, is related to the brutal treatment of his father during this child's first experience with reading.

To quote: "When he was five his father decided to teach him to read. When the child missed a word the father would rap him across the knuckles with a ruler. The result was that the child could not think of reading, and the less so would end with the father in a rage and Tommy's knuckles all covered with welts."

Father Scolded

"After a week his father said, 'He's too dumb to learn to read. After that, every time he saw him and at every meal, he would start yelling at him in a sneering tone, 'Shame on Tommy. He's dumb. Too dumb to learn to read. I never thought I'd ever have a dumb son. Oh, what a stupid boy. Oh, what a dumbbell. I learned to read when I was three, but you're dumb.' And so on. He never was so hard on Nora as on Tommy. He said fathers always favored girls."

"Tommy has great difficulty with reading at school. Once in a great while he knows his whole lesson and then the next day cannot tell a word and cannot seem even to keep his eyes on the book. His teacher says he seems to go to pieces at the sight of a reader. She says he does well at arithmetic, art and science. He loves anything scientific—birds, animals, astronomy, physiology, mechanics and asks questions which astonish his teachers."

"I tried to help Tommy at home, but he soon burst into tears, saying he could not learn, that he was too dumb and it was no use to try to force somebody to learn what he is too dumb to learn. He quoted his father word for word."

In writing this mother I urged her never to talk to this child about the father's bad traits, nor even to discuss them with anybody else except with an expert. From your public library you may be able to borrow books full of the things this boy is so deeply interested in. Read to him from them, so as to help build up his confidence.

SPRING LAMB

Lambs are usually born in the spring. Perhaps that is the reason that mutton is usually called spring lamb.

No matter what it is called, it provides good nourishment. Arabs make good use of mutton. They prepare it in many ways. Perhaps roasting is the most common method of cooking it.

Mutton has a distinctive odor and taste. It smells and tastes like mutton. It provides abundant nourishment for those who like it.

Protein is the main food ingredient of mutton as of all kinds of meat and fish. To get one ounce of protein about five ounces of meat must be eaten.

Lamb, beef, pork, poultry, fish, game, cheese, eggs and milk provide animal protein in a very acceptable form. It is easily digested and made use of by the body.

Vegetables and fruits and grains provide protein also.

Vegetable or plant protein and animal protein seem to work better when they are eaten together.

Hints On Etiquette

Do you always wait for your friends to call you and ask you for your company? If so you may come to a day that you have no more invitations. It is not only good manners to make your share of friendly gestures, but it is the way to keep friends.

From Me To You

By MESEKALL

Do you believe in luck? Well some times you just can't but believe that some folks are lucky and others are unlucky. . . there's something to it alright. This morning for example . . . we spotted a cruiser car stop a motorist . . . one officer got out with his ticket book in hand and began to give the driver of the stopped car a ticket . . . but a few moments, and we do mean a few moments . . . the officer put the book away without finishing what he started and got back in the cruiser and away the two parties went . . . It might have been luck, don't you think . . . or maybe you believe in the theory it's who you know that counts.

Now look at the people who drive every day of the year . . . and those who are what we call Sunday drivers . . . and the many of those people who do not carry insurance on their cars . . . never have carried insurance to amount to anything and then look at the drivers who carry insurance for years . . . neither one of these two parties have an accident . . . But let the chap who has been heavily insured drop his insurance . . . and the first thing he has happen . . . he's paying for the rest of his days.

Of course the chap who never carries insurance doesn't get off scot-free . . . usually he hasn't anything much and you recall that old saying . . . you can't take hair off a frog. Anyone who attempts to drive an auto without having it properly insured should have his head examined . . . for the law will not protect those who are in the wrong but an insurance company will help pay expenses. Read the Saturday Evening Post of Last week . . . or the week before . . . for a very excellent story on a fellow who didn't have auto insurance. No we are not selling insurance and we don't have any agent in mind . . . But we do feel like crying when we see an accident and a law suit over damages.

How many streets in town need stop signs but don't sport 'em? It seems that a wee bit of checking would reveal the present situation . . . and if the present situation is understood maybe some good citizen could recommend how the signs could be made inexpensively.

WASHINGTON—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower tells Congress: "I don't believe we should challenge anyone. I think we can all live peacefully together if we'll just have a little sense. I believe in carrying no chip on the shoulder."

WASHINGTON—Senator Walter George (D-Georgia) opposes immediate tax cut: "The tax cut ought to be based on an expenditures budget, and any other basis is a hazard—it is simply taking a gambler's chance."

Looking At Life

By Erich Brandeis

I am afraid I am in my second childhood.

Every book on the subject of age I have ever read has told me that, as you get old, your optimism changes to pessimism.

With approaching age you are supposed to become cynical, to view with alarm the new generation, to long for the good old days and to laugh less and less with every year.

Somewhat I don't seem to have any of these symptoms of approaching age.

I am worried. I have lived half a century. I have been married more than twenty-five years. My hair is thinning and what is left is turning gray at the temples.

I should be bitter and grumpy—and I am nothing of the kind.

I am young no longer, but I feel young. So it must be my second childhood.

This is what troubles me. I think that today's youth is just as good as yesterday's or the youth of forty years ago.

I think the good old days were pretty awful compared with the good new days.

I have no desire to go back to kerosene lamps and horse-drawn street cars and unpaved roads and to homes with no telephones, refrigerators and radios.

I dislike neither Republicans nor Democrats. I don't think that all politicians are crooks and that the world is going to the dogs because all governments are rotten.

I don't agree with the opinion of one of our diplomats that we are "in for a humanistic depression."

I don't care whether a fellow is a Protestant, Catholic, Jew, Mohammedan or Yogi. If he's all right, he's all right with me.

I think the world is a darn swell place to live in and that people, as a whole, are a pretty good bunch to live with.

I think that all this talk about economic debacles and immorality and moral bankruptcy is just a lot of balderdash and that while we are muddling around like a bunch of darn fools right now, we'll soon get back to our senses and have a swell time again.

For the last week the weather has been awful.

Rain, rain, rain. Fog, dampness, mud, wind.

Both my wife and I were disgusted.

"I don't think spring will ever come," she said.

"It's enough to drive a person crazy," I agreed.

WHO SUGGESTS LEAVING—MAN OR WOMAN

Question: When a man and a woman are leaving a table in a restaurant, which one should rise first and which proceed first toward the door?

Answer: It is always the woman's privilege to indicate that it is time for departure, but should the man be in a hurry and she show no inclination to leave, he may ask her if she is ready to go.

Question: When a bride's sister is her nearest relative, who should announce her marriage?

Answer: If the bride and groom are mature and care to announce their own wedding, they may do so. Usually, however, a bride desires to have someone else announce it. A married sister and her husband may do so.

Mr. and Mrs. John Jones have the honour to announce the marriage of their sister . . . etc., etc.

Question: How should chaise-lounges be pronounced?

Answer: As if it were spelled shawnee-long. It is a French word meaning "long chair" and not a lounge, as popularly supposed.

Question: I have been invited to a tea given in honor of a graduate. Should I present her with a gift?

Answer: A gift is not obligatory but it is customary for friends of a graduate to give her mementos of the happy occasion.

Question: Which is correct for business cards: Mary Jane Brown or Miss Mary Jane Brown?

Answer: Miss Mary Jane Brown for both business and personal calling cards. The "Miss" is never omitted.

Present your problems to Miss Markel who will promptly mail personal replies to questions from readers enclosing stamped, self-addressed envelopes.

Tomorrow — Birthday Celebration.

Senate Moderator Of New House Legislation Price Cutting Campaign Begins To Sag? Truman Labor Bill Version Being Framed?

Special to Central Press

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The Senate, in the first completely GOP-controlled Congress in 17 years, is acting as a kind of balance wheel or moderator of drastic legislation passed by the House of Representatives. This tendency is appearing in virtually all major legislation. Examples are:

1—The House passed the drastic Hartley labor regulation bill by a 338 to 107 vote, assuring that this chamber would repass the bill over a presidential veto. The Senate passed the Taft labor bill, 68-24, an edge great enough to edge a veto, but it was doubtful whether a two-thirds Senate vote could be mustered for the Hartley bill.

2—The House passed the three billion eight million-dollar tax reduction bill and made it retroactive to last Jan. 1. Prospects are that the Senate will accept the bill, but will move the effective date up to July 1. This bill has turned out to be a strictly partisan measure, and a presidential veto is regarded as almost certain.

3—The House slashed President Truman's request for post-UNRRA foreign relief funds from 359 million to 200 million dollars. The Senate is set to vote the full 350 millions—which probably will mean a compromise in conference.

4—The House is ripping huge chunks out of President Truman's budget requests in passing appropriation bills, but the Senate is partially restoring the cuts.

THERE ARE GROWING INDICATIONS that the price cutting campaign that swept through many small cities and towns on the heels of President Truman's "mark down" request is beginning to bog down.

One reason is that most reductions were made at the retail level and never seemed to filter down to the jobbers and wholesalers. Many businessmen pointed out that the price slashing drive was "unhealthy" because of this inequality.

Another reason is that many leading industrialists are still wary about the extent of second-round wage increases. Until wage demands are settled, businessmen feel that they should not commit themselves on price reductions.

A third reason is the general attitude of business over the government's food subsidy program which continues to hold up farm prices. Businessmen feel that they shouldn't be told to slash prices when the government doesn't take reciprocal action.

THE STANTON HOTEL CHAIN is preparing for an anticipated drop in wholesale food prices of between 20 and 25 per cent no later than early fall.

John L. Hennessy, chairman of the hotel chain's board of directors, told a large group of Washington reporters that within nine months he expects pork and beef prices to be lower while the poultry market becomes stable. He expects other foods to drop, too, and said the chain will cut its prices by about 14 or 15 per cent if the reductions materialize.

SOME SHOE RETAILERS also look for a 20 per cent cut in prices this summer.

The reason: Sales have dropped sharply since the first of the year and inventories are so high that store orders for next fall were only 15 to 20 per cent of anticipated needs.

A SOURCE CLOSE TO THE WHITE HOUSE reveals that President Truman has a staff of experts working on the kind of a labor law he would like to see the Congress pass.

It is understood that the president plans to use the bill in framing the possible veto message that labor legislation now under consideration in both Houses seems certain to bring.

The bill, being formulated under White House direction, is designed to serve as a focal point for the so-called liberal Republican bloc on the Hill. It probably will attempt to correct the most flagrant labor abuses without alienating the affections of the labor vote.

In View Of The News

By J. C. Ostreicher, INS Foreign Director

Disclosure that the United States Navy is going to reap its first harvest of victory in the Pacific by exploring the long-hidden islands of Micronesia has opened an amazing vista of future progress in science and in culture.

The plans for dispatch of an American and Australian team of research workers into these vast oceanic areas hold out tantalizing promises.

Most of the Micronesians Islands had been administered by the Japanese since 1910, and a decade later the League of Nations gave Tokyo a mandate over the Carolinas and Marianas Islands.

But in her more than thirty years of possession, Japan did little or nothing to exploit the unknown and probably very great resources of these holdings. It was traditional for the moneyed families of Japan to send their well-to-do sons out to the mid-Pacific where the sign of caste was an ability to browbeat the natives.

As a matter of actual fact, it was not until plans were laid down for the so-called "co-prosperity sphere" of East Asia that capable Japanese were sent to the islands at all, and these were military men with the sole and single aim of imperialism: in view.

Created Naval Base

They created a naval base at Truk which was supposed to be one of the wonders of the modern world, and another at Ponape. But both collapsed like a stepped-on paper lantern when Admiral William F. Halsey and the late lamented Marc Mitscher threw the steel tentacles of the American navy cross their supply lines.

Enlightened man's development

When the Pacific war ended, all the victorious nations—and in this case even including Russia—agreed that this tremendous ocean and its microscopic pinpoint of land should be an American lake, to give what it could of its riches to future humanity.

It was not so very, very many years ago that a group of hardy explorers stumbled across the Incachona river in Peru and found a drug that by the name of quinine has almost conquered malaria. The Japanese looked upon their Pacific Islands as future naval and air bases for a world war that was destined to be lost from the beginning.

And in their avarice and aggression, they may have overlooked the seeds of countless future blessings to mankind.

MAINE WATERFRONT FIRE LOSS HEAVY

EASTPORT, Me., May 22.—(INS)—Fire which swept the Eastport waterfront last night caused damage estimated today at more than a million dollars.

The fire started in a one-story wooden building housing the Mearl Corporation, manufacturers of fire-extinguisher equipment. Fanned by a strong wind the flames spread rapidly to nearby acid and gasoline storage plants.

Children's clothing to an estimated value of $13,000,000 is returned to stores annually because of wrong sizes.

WASHINGTON CALLING

Similar cuts in soil conservation and soil reclamation have aroused the west.

Caused Concern
They have caused concern here in Albany, too. The fear is that the Republican policy in Washington may alienate voters in the western states. The Republicans, as Leon Henderson recently put it, have an amazing capacity for snatching defeat from the jaws of victory.

Conservation is merely one phase of the Dewey program of spending for expansion. The former division of commerce has been made a department of the state government, and the budget has been increased from $400,000 to $1,600,000. This too is in direct contrast to Republican policy in Washington, where the amount asked by the federal department of commerce for next year has been cut by nearly one-third.

The office of director of state publicity has been created and the state's publicity budget increased from $125,000 to $300,000. A veteran member of the Dewey team, Harold Keller, is both director of publicity and deputy commissioner of commerce.

Impressive Job
Keller has done an impressive publicity job on the state's tourist attractions. This includes a 25-minute film in color. Hundreds of prints of this film are to be shown before church, school and club groups all over the country. Even more impressive is the publicity campaign to attract new industry to the state. Five thousand copies of a letter over Dewey's signature were sent to the heads of business firms throughout the United States. While this letter did not invite them to move their industry to New York, it urged them "to make use of an unusual and valuable business service offered by the department of commerce of the state of New York" if they are planning to expand in the east.

The success of this campaign drew resentful looks and even one or two rebukes from governors of nearby states. More than 500 responses came from the letter and were "followed up" in the best business style by two traveling employees of the state department of commerce.

Cause For Cut
One explanation for the 50 per cent cut in the state income tax and a reduction in the business franchise tax is the need to compete, industrially, with other areas. Dewey's experts are acutely aware of the pulls from the south and the west of lower taxes and lower labor and living costs.

The state, last year, started $70,000,000 in low-cost housing, according to Budget Director John E. Burton. A considerable part of this went to house veterans in the three colleges opened to take care of GI's who could not gain admission to the established colleges in the state.

Benefits under the state's social-security laws were increased in a variety of ways. In short, the record being written here is almost exactly the opposite of that being made in Washington. It is a contrast with a high political potential. (Copyright, 1947, By United Feature Syndicate, Inc.)

up in his heart and head a happier association with books.

Children's Magazines
Some of the children's magazines should help him, especially those with many short, simple pictured items and short legends about them, and with simple things to do. The pictures will help him dig out the meaning of the words and, since he likes to make things, he will have a strong motive to read in order to do. He also might gain some help in getting the hang of reading from a few of the better comic strips of the newspaper.

If you will read to him he may grow more ready to read some to you from books or magazines full of pictures and reading matter of easy vocabulary. Be sure you don't keep him at reading too long at a stretch, or when he is annoyed at reading or you feel the least bit vexed. You need to build pleasant feelings in him in connection with reading.

The pup had broken a glass window in the machine, and also damaged some candy stocks. The confectioner figured his kindness to the pup cost him $75.

See Living Cost Remaining Higher Than Before War

PITTSBURGH, May 22.—(INS)—The nation must accept the fact that current living costs will remain substantially higher than pre-war. That was the opinion of two leading business men addressing the closing session of the annual spring conference of the Controllers Institute of America in Pittsburgh.

Martin R. Gainsburgh, chief economist for the National Industrial Conference board, said certain groups seeking lower consumer prices have "led, or misled, consumers to expect sharply lowered prices."

The public expects price cuts amounting to between 25 and 33 per cent, he added, saying: "Although the buying public recognizes in many instances that the prices of labor services they render have gone up, they still believe it warranted to compare the cost of today's product with its pre-war counterpart."

Gainsburgh predicted that when the new price structure is firmly established "it will be substantially higher than pre-war". It will possibly be as much as 40 to 50 per cent higher, he said.

Steel Industry Sees No Sudden End Of Shortage

Despite Labor Peace, Production Gains, Supply Lags Far Behind Demands

PITTSBURGH, May 22.—(INS)—Basic producers of the nation's steel capital were hesitant today to predict an end to the shortage of steel products, now crippling production.

Spokesmen for the industry were agreed, however, that steel will be in short supply for "some time to come."

Despite peace in the ranks of labor, expansion of present facilities and unprecedented, record-breaking production, the basic steel industry still lags well behind consumer demand, officials said.

Constant peak demands for every type of steel product was the problem facing steelmakers.

A spokesman for the United States Steel corporation said: "It is an unprecedented situation. The steel industry has never before seen the likes of it—and probably never will again."

Although the industry's furnaces turn out nearly 400,000 tons of raw steel weekly, finishing mills generally were operating at below capacity.

'Slack Periods'

It was explained that, in ordinary times, needs for specific steel products were subject to seasonal "slack periods". At present, however, basic producers are faced with the problem of turning out "every conceivable type" of steel product without let-up.

The industry's finishing capacity exceeds that of ingot—raw steel—by approximately 50 per cent, officials said.

As a result, the basic producers are forced to "balance" their finishing operations, allocating a fair proportion of steel for each product in proportion to demands.

This equitable distribution of ingot steel is the "fairest method" of filling heavy backlogs of orders, a spokesman said.

The steelmakers were wary in their predictions of when these backlogs would be filled. Predictions varied from five months to a year and more before the steel market will level off.

Expansion programs for increased production of critically needed strip and sheet steel are well under way in the industry.

Although originally scheduled to be in operation during 1947, delays have forced postponement until next year. Expanded facilities at that time are expected to increase sheet and strip production approximately 20 per cent over the previous peace time high of 16 million net tons in 1941.

Korean Theatre Managers Ban American Movies

SEOUL, Korea, (by airmail)—(INS)—Korean theater managers are boycotting American made motion pictures.

Since January 10 only a single theater in the capital city of Seoul has shown American movies, even though the Hollywood productions are far and away the most popular with the Korean public.

Reason for the ban is a quarrel over percentages, guarantees and other technical details between the local theater association and the Central Motion Picture Exchange, distributor of U. S. movies in Japan and Korea.

Meanwhile shows go on, but patrons are offered only stage shows and antiquated French, Italian and German pictures, plus the few Korean flickers that have been turned out since the end of the war.

FARMERS CALLED REDS

A Filipino farmers' organization, "Samahang Magbubukid", headed by Cerefino Inciong, at Balayan, is a communistic group, according to charges made by Guillermo Espino, member of the Philippine Agrarian Commission in Manila. He declared the farmers use coercive tactics in recruiting members from the share-cropping tenants of landed estates around Malaya, charge their members exorbitant fees and indoctrinate them with red ideals. Espino urged that the group be outlawed.

Intensive War On Farm Pests State's Program

Agriculture Department
Hopes To Eradicate Livestock, Plant Diseases

OTHER FARM NEWS FROM HARRISBURG

HARRISBURG, May 22.—(INS)—The State Agriculture department has intensified its battle against diseases of livestock and plants and eradicate crop damaging insects.

Officials claimed a major victory over pullorum disease of poultry, highly contagious infection, after reducing the incidence rate in two decades to approximately one out of 100 birds in a flock.

The chief weapon was education. Farmers have learned the need for maintaining sanitary conditions in poultry houses, according to Secretary Miles Horst. Blood tests were urged to detect infections.

Only 1.2 per cent of 1,012,930 birds tested last year were found diseased, he said.

Clean records were marked up for 353 of the 1,256 flocks examined, Horst asserted.

The biggest campaign in history to destroy gypsy moths was under way with 90,000 acres of forest land in Lackawanna and Luzerne counties slated to be sprayed with DDT. Sixty-five tons of the insecticide will be used to kill gypsy caterpillars before July, the department announced. Much of the spraying will be done from airplanes, it added.

Similar measures were urged against the European corn borer which destroyed more than $2,710,000 worth of crops in the state last year.

Suffer Most

Southeastern counties suffered the greatest ruin from the hardy two-generation borers which reproduce rapidly during May and June, according to a survey conducted by the Bureau of Plant Industry.

Pennsylvania milk production totaled 480,000,000 pounds during April, a five per cent increase above the March yield.

The monthly output during May was expected to reach a half billion pounds despite poor pasture conditions.

The April yield was only 10,000,000 pounds short of the peak figure for that month established in 1945, according to the Agriculture department. Continued high production was attributed to increased herds and larger outputs per cow.

The high cost of feed coupled with decreased milk prices was expected to keep the total 1947 production below the 1946 level.

Farmers expected to harvest one of the best wheat crops in years. A 20,416 bushel crop was anticipated compared with last year's yield of 19,912,000 bushels, according to the department. The average crop during the 10-year period ending in 1945 approximated 18,406,000 bushels, it was reported.

Yields per acre were expected to average 22 bushels, a half bushel decline from 1946, but a two-bushel gain over the 10-year period. Approximately 928,000 acres were planted with wheat last fall compared with 885,000 during the previous season.

Egg production picked up during April when hens produced 313,000,000 eggs.

Five per cent fewer hens populated farms than a year ago, but an increased production rate per bird kept the output at only seven per cent below the record April yield last year, according to a federal-state report.

Receive Cablegram From T-Sgt. Simons

Mr. and Mrs. Audley J. Simons, Pulaski road, received a cablegram from their son, T. Sgt. Joseph A. Simons, informing them that he expects to be home soon.

Sgt. Simons has served two and one half years in the armed forces, 24 months of which were spent overseas in various parts of Japan. He re-enlisted in January, 1946, and since that time has been stationed at headquarters of the Eighth Army in Yokohama, Japan.

Million-Dollar Airliners Will Start On June 3

NEW YORK, May 22.—(INS)—Eastern Airlines new million-dollar, 60-passenger Constellations will begin operating June 3 on a four-hour nonstop schedule between New York and Miami.

Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker, president of the line, made this disclosure Tuesday while appearing on the radio program "Breakfast with Dorothy and Dick" (Dorothy Killgallen and Richard Killman) over Station WOR.

Sailing June 10, New York and Houston, Texas, will be linked in a five-hour non-stop schedule, Rickenbacker said.

Shortly afterward regular four-hour non-stop Constellation runs will be made between Chicago and Miami and between Detroit and Miami.

A Boston-Washington-St. Louis run is approximately three and three quarters hours is contemplated for the near future.

The planes to be used on these trips will be identical with the EAL Constellation which last Saturday broke two non-stop speed records—Burbank, Calif. to Miami, Fla. (2,430 miles) in six hours and 55 minutes and Miami to New York (1,110 miles) in three hours, 20 minutes and 45 seconds.

Rickenbacker has acquired a fleet of 14 Constellations at an aggregate cost of 16 million dollars.

A gas turbine was patented in 1791 by a John Barber, another in 1808 by a John Dumbell.

PLANTING OF CROPS DELAYED BY RAINS

BUTLER, May 22.—Butler county farmers are wondering whether the rains will let up in time for them to plant their corn and sow their oats.

Sowing of oats normally begins around April 1 and many farmers plan to begin planting their corn around May 10. Few have been able to put in either crop so far this year because of rain and wet ground.

R. H. McDougall estimated today that no more than 15 per cent of either crop is already in the ground in Butler county. Some farmers are abandoning their original idea of sowing oats and putting their oats ground to corn—if it ever stops raining.

In some sections of the Orient it is customary for a girl to weave a special rug for presentation to her prospective husband. It is said some young men look over the field of dowry rugs in the village before picking out a prospective bride.

Bang Disease Control Plans Being Speeded

HARRISBURG, May 22.—(INS)—Breeders have been assured of progress in the state's 13-year-old program to control Bang disease, a contagious infection of cattle.

State Agriculture Secretary Miles

Horst told the Ayshire Breeders' Association in Harrisburg that 46 per cent of the commonwealth's 1,700,000 cattle were tested periodically under the eradication plan. He was one of the chief speakers at the organization's national convention.

Many other states patterned their control programs on that of Pennsylvania, one the leaders in the scope and effectiveness of the Bang disease eradication campaign, Horst said.

Keystone state farmers had practically eliminated bovine tuberculosis with the help of the department, he reported. New developments included cow testing associations and experiments in artificial breeding, he added.

During the last quarter century, the average annual milk output per cow had been increased 50 per cent due to better breeding and farm management, Horst pointed out.

In 1915, nearly half the women who worked outside the home in the United States earned less than $6 a week.

Rebekah chapter of the First U. R. church met in the home of Mrs. George T. Roberts, Englewood avenue, on a recent evening with Mrs. John McGee, Mrs. Pearl Morrow and Mrs. George Ramsey as associate hostesses. At the business meeting, presided over by Mrs. Jay White, president, Miss Jane Wallace, former efficiency and statistical secretary, presented to this year's efficiency and statistical secretary, Mrs. B. Fernch Johnson, a banner, which Beaver Valley Presbyterian church presented to the society having attained the highest number of efficiency and statistical points during the year. Rebekah chapter had 100 per cent in these points.

Mrs. Glenn Carpenter and Mrs. Theodore Lewis were appointed to pack boxes of clothing to be sent to mission station in Ezel, Ky. Members having used clothing for these boxes were asked to leave them in Miss Brown's class room by June 1. Speaker at the meeting was Mrs. Frank L. Orth, who reviewed the book "The Portrait of a Pilgrim" written by Dr. Buehl Gallagher, a resident of Berkeley, Calif., and head of the school of Christian Ethics in that city. Mrs. Orth stated that the book opened with the thought that some people are so world-minded that they cannot see we have problems in our own country.

The book takes up the problem of race prejudice and how we can overcome it in all parts of the United States. It devotes a chapter to the problems of the thousands of Mexicans living in Los Angeles, another to the Detroit race riots, and another to Chinatown in San Francisco, and the problems of the Japanese, many of whom are returning to the west coast.

The book also pictures the problems of the colored people of the south and elsewhere in our land, and it speaks of the 2400 Hindus living in the United States and the 45,000 Filipinos and the Porto Ricans who live in Harlem, New York. The book also mentions the problems of the Indian living in America.

Meeting closed by giving Mrs. Mrs. Orth a rising vote of thanks for her splendid coverage of the book.

IN THE OPEN

I sat on the steps by the garage, lacing my hiking boots and listening to the sighing of the stiff breeze in the treetops on the far hill. This has certainly been a great spring for kite-flying youngsters. Since mid-March an almost constant wind has whipped across the countryside, helping the cool nights of the current season to retard all growing things. Suddenly a flash of garbed Baltimore oriole flew up from the lawn and looked me over from the safety of a small dogwood near the roadside. I think his mate has her eye on one of our tail poppers as a nesting site.

A few minutes later I was rolling along a valley roadway when my eye caught a second flash of vivid bird coloration. This time it was an indigo bunting, feeding among some low weeds by the road. The morning was overcast and the light poor, but these two beauties stood out vividly.

Narrow Lane
I was heading for a piece of woodland which lies behind the protective barrier of a wide creek, not too far from my doorway. There is one approach to this area by way of a narrow red-dog lane which winds up the steep hillside through a portion of this timberland. There is scarcely room for two cars to pass on this trail so it was with a sigh of relief that I parked halfway up the hill after negotiating the twists and turns with no mishap.

The woods lay cool and inviting, although the steady breeze stirred up a turmoil overhead. I stepped from the roadway onto a steep hillside covered by a large colony of the false solomon's seal known as wild spikenard. In the fall each of these sturdy plants will bear a cluster of attractive reddish berries covered with purple spots. The little sedum called stonecrop spread its white flowers in favored haunts.

Here and there the trees could be seen a burst of white, indicating a flowering dogwood was hanging out its May wash. The trillium is past its peak for another season. The pure white blossoms have now turned a dull rose color and will soon disappear from the forest scene until another spring.

I worked my way across a deep and narrow gorge and labored up the far bank, coming out on a rocky hillside where the going was difficult until I located the trail used by grousehounds and other four-footed fellows who live in this area. Here the true solomon's seal has established large stations and the plants were in full flower. A long-tailed bird with a well-tailored look flew quietly past as I took a breather and stopped in clear view a few paces from me. He was the yellow-billed cuckoo, the "rain crow" who can throw his voice like a ventriloquist.

Jack-In-The-Pulpits

Jack-in-the-pulpits preached me the age-old sermon as I scrambled across the rocky hillside. Their sentiments were echoed monotonously by the red-eyed vireo, who is known as the "preacher" bird because he keeps repeating the same refrain over and over again in the treetops.

I came across a large flat rock, which had been deposited on this hillside by some powerful upheaval centuries ago. The polypody fern has taken up a homestead on the face of this rock. I couldn't resist the temptation and stretched out full length among the ferns to rest my weary bones. The woods were alive with warblers going through to their nesting haunts farther north. There were several species in the trees above me, but the light was so poor I could not make out their identity.

Gorgeous Warbler

Finally a gorgeous Blackburnian warbler came down close and I later saw the unmistakable black neck-lace on the breast of the common Canada warbler. A trained ornithologist with a good bird glass among those warblers. Apparently a great migrating group of these little fellows had elected to rest up in that particular piece of timberland. I came out on an open bench where the going was better and worked through to the far edge of the timber and down to the tangles edging the creek. Here the yellow breasted chat serenaded me and I had a short interview with a Maryland yellowthroat, who plainly disapproved of my intrusion along that creek bank. I noted some of the bright yellow blooms of the celandine, and also the frail yellow blossom of the golden corydalis.

A mile or so along the creek brought me back to the red-dog trail and the waiting car. As I drove down the narrow lane I could hear the grating cry of a great crested flycatcher, hunting his living high among the treetops.

Atomic Energy Exhibit Feature Of Ten-Day Show

Actual Splitting Of Atom To Highlight Cleveland Exposition Opening Today

CLEVELAND, May 22.—(INS)—An atomic energy exhibit, complete with actual splitting of atoms, highlights the opening today of the Mid-America Exposition in Cleveland's public hall.

Designed to emphasize the greatness of America's productive genius, the 10-day show also will contain a "village" of pre-fabricated homes, an automotive and agricultural exhibit and daily television shows.

The story of atomic energy, from the raw material stage to present medical, industrial and scientific uses, will be unfolded in terms that the average visitor can understand. Occupying more than 12,000 square feet of exhibition space, the world's first peacetime atomic energy exhibit is being presented with the cooperation and security guidance of the U. S. Atomic Energy commission.

Uranium, pitchblende and other atomic raw materials will be on display as well as a working model of an atomic energy plant in simulated operation. The model plant is under the supervision of Dr. C. R. McCullough, director of atomic power at Oak Ridge, Tenn.

The actual splitting of the atom at the exhibit will take place in a chamber lined with two inches of lead for safety reasons. The energy released will be detected by an amplifier which, in turn, will be connected to another instrument for visual demonstration of the splitting process.

Elements To Be Used

A 5 gram mixture of radium and beryllium will be used in the nuclear experiment. Neutrons, shooting out from the mixture at speeds of more than 10,000 miles per second, and slowed down in a water medium to less than 15,000 feet per second, will bombard a uranium coated geiger tube.

The resulting fission will release some 200 million electron volts of energy.

The American Medical Association has arranged a special exhibit showing the use of radioactive tracers in research and detection of diseases. The display is under the supervision of Dr. H. L. Friedell, former deputy chief of the medical section for the Manhattan district.

Further amplifying the atomic exhibit will be a display by the American Chemical society and the American Museum of Natural History, which together will present a pictorial story of atomic energy from its early discovery to present peacetime uses.

Industrial applications and benefits coming from atomic energy research will be presented in a section prepared by the Westinghouse Electric company. It will include a model of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology's Van de Graaf generator.

John A. Crawford, managing director of the exposition, predicted that nearly two million persons would witness the seven-acre show. He said the exposition was intended to emphasize the industrial importance of America's "Ruhr," the area described within the triangle formed by Detroit, Cincinnati and Pittsburgh.

Optimists, Wives Have Anniversary Dinner Wednesday

Club Members And 'Optimisses' Enjoy Dinner, Fine Program Of Fun

First anniversary dinner of the Optimist club members and their wives, the "Optimisses" was held Wednesday evening at an out-of-town restaurant.

Following a delicious dinner the club members and their wives were entertained by a lively program of fun, with president Al Garren acting as the evening's toastmaster.

A clear review of the past year's activities was given by ex-president Arthur Graham, who at the conclusion of his talk was presented the past-president's pin by Mr. Garren. Jerry Crangi was excellent as the "club gripper", while many other members of the chapter gave extemporaneous talks.

A humorous skit with Otto Pearl, Dale Clovis, Jerry Crangi, and Dr. R. C. Gilmore making up the cast, delighted the guests.

Mrs. Arthur Graham, past-president of the woman's branch of the organization, was presented with a gift by Mrs. Al Garren.

Games and cards followed the program.

Four Will Attend General Assembly

Beaver Valley Delegates To Leave For U. P. Church Meeting At Sterling, Kas.

Four delegates, including three ministers and one layman, will represent Beaver Valley presbytery at the General Assembly of the United Presbyterian church which will be in session from May 28-June 2, at Sterling, Kas. Having so many from one community is unusual.

Representatives from this district include Rev. S. E. Irvine, pastor of First U. P. church; Rev. J. Calvin Rose, minister of Second U. P. church; Rev. D. J. Ferguson, pastor of Highland U. P. church; and Dr. T. J. McFate, elder of Highland congregation. Having a congregation represented at the Assembly by both pastor and elder is rather uncommon.

Rev. Rose and Rev. Ferguson who will be accompanied by their families are going by automobile to Sterling. Rev. Rose who is taking his vacation at that time will go as far as the western coast with his family. Rev. Ferguson and his family will visit for two weeks in the west at the meeting's close, enjoying the remainder of his vacation later in the summer.

St. Vitus Bowlers Banquet Enjoyed

Special Program-Bowling Officers For 1948 Elected At Dinner At The Castleton

Sodalists of Our Lady of St. Vitus brought the bowling season to a successful close for the fifth consecutive year when their annual bowling banquet was enjoyed at The Castleton on a recent evening.

A full-course chicken dinner was served at 6:15 p. m. in the Coral room, the table nicely arranged for the occasion. Clever place cards made by Celestine Scungio were in the shape of ducks with the girls' averages and scores on them.

At the close of dinner, pins were presented. The Seton Hill team won the championship for the 46-47 year. Laura Isabelle was captain. Team mates were Delores Ottaviano Frabotta, Antoinette Call, Julie Terranova, Mary Librandi and Mary Chilli. The opposing team included: Celestine Scungio, captain, Vincent Chirumbolo, Clara Ferrazzano, Lena Mastrangelo, Angeline Miscimari and Nelli Gianni.

Ann Miscimari received a pin for the highest average, 187 during the first half, and Viola Tuscano, 187 for second half. High three-game pin won by Viola Tuscano score of 488, and high average pin for the season was won by Viola Tuscano, score 132.

Special guests were Rev. Fr. Albert M. Intero, Rev. Fr. Francis Boyle and Mrs. Bob Mackey and each spoke briefly.

The bowling knocker, written by Celestine Scungio and Julie Terranova, was to the tune of "Uncle Remus". Josephine DeMase sang the introduction, Lena Mastrangelo and Vincetta Chirumbolo the chorus and the authors were the narrators.

Each member received a remembrance of the bowling season and bowling officers were elected: chair-lady, Laura Isabelle, aided by Viola Tuscano, and treasurer, Madeline Covelli. Retiring chairlady, Albena Chirumbolo, and aides, Vincetta Chirumbolo and Rita Natale, thanked the group for their cooperation.

Still Treat Six Of McKees Rocks Explosion Victims

PITTSBURGH, May 22.—(INS)—Six victims of a boiler explosion that leveled a part of the Lockhart Iron and Steel Company mill in nearby McKees Rocks, today still were hospitalized, one in critical condition.

Five others injured when the blast shook the area for blocks around yesterday, were discharged. Physicians said Thomas Taylor, Jr., 41, who was severely burned in the explosion, was in critical condition when the blast occurred.

His father, Thomas, Sr., and a brother, John, 38, also working nearby were injured. John was buried under a heap of rubble, but managed to work his hand out through some loose bricks and wave it until he was discovered and rescued. His condition was fair.

Cause of the blast was unknown. T. J. Gillespie, Jr., president of the company, said, however, "it was not due to a shortage of water in the boiler."

State Winning Pullorum Fight

HARRISBURG.—After 22 years in operation, the Pennsylvania method for prevention, control and eradication of pullorum disease of poultry has reached the point where only slightly more than 1 in 100 birds under supervision are found to have the ailment, according to Miles Horst, State Secretary of Agriculture.

Based upon principle of sanitation, the Pennsylvania method started in 1925 when approximately 15,000 birds in the flocks of 39 Pennsylvania poultry breeders were blood-tested in the official State program. The percentage of positive reactors that year was 3.12, and only three flocks were classed as "clean" or free from the disease. In 1927 the percentage of infected birds was 10.37, highest known since the program started.

ITHACA.—(INS)—Huck Spaulding, 18, of South Westerly, has won the state championship as the youth who trapped the most foxes in 1946. He snared 135. Second place was taken by Robert H. Hark, 18, of Dalton, with 51, and third by George Rathbun, Dalton, with 28. Winners receive cash awards and medals given by the State Farm Bureau Federation and the American Agriculturalist, a farm magazine.

Marzani Admits His Wife Was Red

WASHINGTON, May 22.—(INS)—Carl Aldo Marzani admitted Wednesday that his wife, the former Edith Eisner, was a member of the Communist party.

Marzani is on trial in district court, charged with concealing his Communist party membership when seeking employment with the Office of Strategic Services.

Prosecuting Attorney John M. Kelley, Jr., asked Marzani if he were in New York Communist party headquarters when his wife made a speech. Marzani replied: "I may have been."

Kelley then asked: "Did you ever know your wife to be a member of the Communist party?"

Marzani replied: "Yes sir, she was."

Earlier, Kelley drew from Marzani an admission that he kept a record of overtime worked for the OSS when he was in military service as a private and sergeant.

Marzani said he carried the record of overtime along with him when he entered the state department employ as a civilian, after his discharge.

He testified that as a civilian he had taken compensatory leave for the overtime he put in while on military duty.

Marzani also repeated earlier testimony that he picked the 15 specific targets in Tokyo for the Doolittle raiders. He said he did this after he started to work for the office of coordinator of information on March 7, 1942.

Questioned by Kelley, he said he "understood" the raid occurred several months later, and then said his memory was in fault when Kelley pointed out that the raid on Tokyo was April 18, 1942.

Shortly after Marzani's admission that his wife was a communist, Kelley finished his cross examination of the defendant.

Pastor Who Set Fire To Church Is Judged Sane

MILWAUKEE, May 22.—(INS)—Three psychiatrists reported today that Dr. John Lewis, charged with setting fire to the Calvary Presbyterian church where he had been pastor for 11 years, is sane.

Following the filing of the psychiatrists' report in municipal court, Judge Herbert Steffens set June 9 as the date for the opening of Dr. Lewis' trial on the arson charge.

The mental examination of the clergyman had been delayed until Monday because of his ill health.

Dr. Lewis is accused of setting a blaze last January that caused $150,000 damage to the church.

The pastor is a native of Wales and was a minister in Toronto, Canada, and Scranton, Pa., before coming to Milwaukee.

OPA IS "LIVE CORPSE"

PITTSBURGH, May 22.—(INS)—The OPA may be all but buried. But you couldn't convince a Pittsburgh auto dealer that was so—and perhaps a lot of car owners will be glad to learn there's life in the old boy yet.

In a civil action in Pittsburgh Federal court, Joseph Foreman, the car dealer, was ordered to pay Herbert Laroach of Pittsburgh $731 as over-the-ceiling charge in the purchase of a 1941 Cadillac car for $2100.

In addition, Judge Nelson McVicar can order him to pay further damages. Under OPA regulations, up to treble damages may be imposed by the court.

Neighborhood House Loses Meeting Place

Classes Of Institution Meeting In Scattered Places Until Permanent Quarters Secured

The Neighborhood House, South-side religious and social welfare institution, which has been located at East Long Avenue and Pollock Avenue for a number of years has been forced to vacate the building which has been sold.

Since the first of the month, the classes of the Neighborhood House have been held in homes and various other meeting places and will continue to do so until a permanent location has been secured.

The Sunday school is being carried on in a vacant room donated by Mrs. Abraham of East Long Avenue. Misses Christine and Jean Butler are supervising the school at this new location.

The April report given before the Americanization Board at the Y.M.C.A. recently, shows that quite a bit of activity has been carried on despite the handicaps under which the group has been working. The final week of April was spent in packing and storing the equipment of the Sunday school.

The Bible school sewing class completed their work at home while the Greek-English class is waiting for a place to meet. L.T.L. boys and girls have done good work throughout the year in memory work.

The George Washington J.A.C. club is grateful for the receipt of a picture of George Washington presented the club by the D.A.R. through Miss Katharine Foulke, county superintendent of the J.A.C. work. A group of boys gave a demonstration of the work done at the Vacation Bible school at the Christian Alliance church young peoples society.

The work of the Neighborhood House has been presented before the Rotary Annals and a nice gift of money was presented for use in the work. A group of young ladies demonstrated their work before the Missionary Society of the St. Paul's Lutheran church. The Evangelism club is meeting each week at the home of Moses Jacob, Grimes street while the home evangelism class meets at the home of Mrs. Marco Cornianos, Big Run street.

An evangelism meeting will be held on Friday evening at the home of Mrs. S. Howard, 13 West Reynolds street.

Donors for the month include: Mooney Brothers, D.A.R., Second U.P. Bible school; Rotary Annals and Lutheran Missionary Society. Four Bibles were given away, one Gideon Testament and 15 Flannelgraph talks on John.

Building Closing Will Not Halt All Library Service

Librarians and staff of workers of the Free Public Library at North and Mercer streets, will be at the library while it is closed for remodeling. However they will not be on ordinary duty. All books in the main body of the library must be moved and will be stored in the reference and reading rooms.

A skeleton service will be maintained as far as possible. Brief and easy references and inquiries by telephone will be answered. Renewals of books will be accepted daily to prevent fines from accumulating.

A desk will be placed in the vestibule of the Mercer street entrance where books may be returned from 9 p. m. until 5 p. m. daily as they fall due. Pay collection of books will not be in circulation during the period the library is closed. Mrs. Alice Sterling, librarian, announces today.

The library will be closed for approximately one month after Tuesday, May 27, while two stacks of steel shelving are being erected in the main body of the library and a new lighting system installed.

Declares Strikes Will Not Change French Policy

PARIS, May 22.—(INS)—Minister of National Economy Andre Philip declared today that the daily riots and threats of spreading strikes cannot be permitted to change the French government's policy of a controlled economy.

Philip, one-man brain trust of the government's wage-price program, told International News Service: "These outbreaks constitute a grave danger to the government's policy and the future stability of the franc."

His statement came as the violent attack on the government's program culminated in demonstrations and rioting in many parts of France. At the same time various labor unions posed the threat of strikes in defiance of wage curb regulations.

Child Falls Four Floors Into Arms Of Three Youths

PHILADELPHIA, May 22.—(INS)—Add people lucky to be alive: Two-year-old Joseph Soutner, who fell four floors from a window at St. Vincent's hospital into the arms of three waiting youths.

The boy suffered a fractured arm. Police said the youngster, who lives at the hospital, plunged from a window sill, apparently while he tried to evade attendants seeking to pull him to safety.

His three rescuers—Michael MacIntyre, 17; Bernard Brennan, 16; and Francis Harris, 17—were bruised but broke the child's fall.

They had run to the scene when they heard the screams of women spectators who noticed the youngster teetering precariously on the window ledge.

Modest Information Service Is Favored

Chairman Of Congress Committee Withdraws Opposition To Modified U. S. Voice

WASHINGTON, May 22.—(INS)—Rep. Stefan (R) Neb., chairman of the appropriations subcommittee which denied all funds for "The Voice of America," indicated today he is withdrawing opposition to continuation of the State department program.

Stefan announced his approval of the "general features" of the Mundt bill to legally authorize an overseas counter-propaganda program if it were along "modest lines." He declared:

"I'm certainly in favor of what General Marshall wants and I will be in favor of a modest information service."

Stefan insisted, however, that private agencies should be assigned most of the responsibility for conducting the State department's international information and educational work. He remarked:

"I don't think it should be an expensive program and certainly not one costing the thirty-one million dollars requested in the 1948 budget request."

Greatest Drive On Gypsy Moths

Plan To Spray 20,000 Acres Of Infested Lackawanna, Luzerne Areas

HARRISBURG.—The greatest single effort in 12 years to wipe out Pennsylvania's isolated infestation of the destructive gypsy moth was assured today when the State and Federal Departments of Agriculture contracted with a commercial firm to spray DDT from airplanes on an additional 20,000 acres of forest land in Lackawanna and Luzerne counties.

According to Dr. Thomas L. Guyton, director of the Pennsylvania Bureau of Plant Industry, this step will assure treatment of approximately 90,000 acres this season. Original plans called for the spraying from the air of 70,000 acres between early April and late June, the season when caterpillars of the gypsy moth feed on practically all kinds of vegetation, completely defoliating trees if permitted to live.

The agencies have obtained 65 tons of DDT for the 1947 spray program. As in each of the past three years, not a single living caterpillar has been found in any area this season after DDT treatment.

Seven airplanes are now distributing DDT daily in the infested area at the rate of one pound per acre. They operate only during early morning and evening hours when distribution from planes is not disturbed by wind or air currents. Pilots are veteran insecticide plane operators and ex-G. I.'s who saw service with U. S. Army Air Forces in World War II.

Ponder Labor Curbing Bills In Legislature

HARRISBURG, May 22.—(INS)—The legislative fate of labor-curbing bills before the General Assembly will be decided today by Republican senators during a special caucus.

The most controversial measure to be considered would prohibit unions from denying membership to trained workers, limit initiation fees to $25 and outlaw union operation of employment services. The bill was sponsored by Sen. A. Evans Kephart (R) Philadelphia.

Two other bills to be discussed proposed drastic alteration of the labor relations act and creation of a mediation board to guide negotiation which would be tantamount to a four months cooling off period. Sponsored by Sen. Weldon B. Hayburn (R) Delaware, the proposals would outlaw secondary boycotts, remove foremen from organization ranks and broaden the definition of unfair labor practices to cover union and management.

Hold Door Is Open
Gov. James H. Duff has taken no position on the measures but Republican house leaders held the door open for possible approval. The lower chamber has passed a union curbing measure lacking the administration stamp along with Duff's labor recommendations.

It would require unions to file annually with the commonwealth reports disclosing dues and assessments, identification and compensation of officers.

Administration bills sent to the senate would outlaw strikes by public employees and teachers, prohibit pay discrimination because of sex, deny jobless benefits to and increase the $20 a week unemployment compensation pay period from 20 to 24 weeks and prohibit workers from picketing plants other than those where they were employed. The senate-approved bill to enact permanently the experience rating system of fixing employers' contributions to the unemployment compensation fund was concurred in by the house.

British Doctor Seeking Legal Mercy Killings

Aged Physician Would Legalize 'Right To Die' Of Incurable Patients

LONDON, May 22.—(INS)—An 85-year-old British physician sought today to legalize the "right to die" of persons suffering great pain from an incurable disease by confessing: "I am not ashamed to say I have taken the life of a patient."

Dr. Edwin Alfred Barton made his disclosure during an address before the annual meeting of the Voluntary Euthanasia Society.

He announced that plans have been made to reintroduce the society's bill for the legalization of euthanasia (the act of inducing death painlessly or as a relief from pain) into the House of Lords.

The bill was before the House of Lords in 1936 but was not given a second reading.

Dr. Percy Groves, chairman of the society, said promises of support for the bill have been received from a number of members of the House of Lords.

Dr. H. Guy Dain, chairman of the British Medical Association, said in commenting on Dr. Barton's statement:

"I regard people who advocate euthanasia as without a real sense of responsibility. Many people have recovered from seemingly incurable illnesses."

The British General Medical Council stated:

"We have had no cases of euthanasia reported to us. We will take no action against the doctor unless complaints are made."

Fabulous Career Of Peanut King Ended By Death

Amedeo Obici, Planter Company President, 70, Dies In Wilkes-Barre

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., May 22.—(INS)—Amedeo Obici, a man with a Horatio Alger life story who rose from peddler to peanut king, was dead today in a Wilkes-Barre hospital. Obici, 70, president of the Planters Nut & Chocolate Co., died in Mercy hospital shortly before midnight last night.

His death closed one of the great romantic stories of American business. He climbed the ladder of success from immigrant Italian boy who came to America at the age of 12 with no knowledge of English, to the presidency of a peanut business which sold $60,000,000 worth of peanuts last year and paid him a salary of $223,000.

Obici founded the Planters Nut & Chocolate Co. in 1906 with Mario Peruzzi, his brother-in-law. Their vast organization—which shipped 10,000,000 cans of peanuts a month to the armed forces overseas during the war—was started with $65 Obici saved from his first job in a cigar factory.

At his death, the Planters Co. employed 5000 persons. Hospital attaches said his death was due to uremic poisoning. He had entered the institution March 26 for a check-up, but his condition deteriorated and he was semi-conscious much of the time.

Fewer Fatalities On Highways In First Quarter

HARRISBURG, May 22.—Highway traffic fatalities during the first three months of 1947 showed a marked decrease as compared to the same period of 1946 and also were under the peak year of 1941, according to a report released today by Secretary of Revenue David W. Harris.

The report shows that 340 persons lost their lives in motor vehicle accidents in Pennsylvania during the first three months of this year, while during the same comparable period of 1946 fatalities totaled 445. For the first three months of the year 1941, which was Pennsylvania's peak motor vehicle year, traffic deaths totaled 452.

A report to Secretary Harris from Director T. E. Transeau of the Bureau of Highway Safety stated "bad driving and bad walking practices" were responsible for practically all of the fatal accidents. The fatalities for the first quarter of 1947 showed that 179 occurred on rural highways and 161 on urban thoroughfares. During the three-month period 174 pedestrians were killed. This was a decrease of 40 as compared to the first three months of 1946. An interesting phase of the report shows that more than 50 percent of the total traffic deaths were those of pedestrians.

The Danish invasions of England in the 9th century are credited with bringing about the unification of the many separate kingdoms of the country.

More Old Time History Seen In Old Ordinances

West New Castle was annexed to the city of New Castle, August 12, 1897, according to an ancient ordinance. The ordinance which provided for the annexation was signed by T. J. Smith, president of common council and B. L. Lusk, pro tem of select council. The ordinance states that three-fifths of the taxable inhabitants of the borough having petitioned council, the borough should be annexed.

The city assigned a police officer at a wage of $50 per month to the Seventh ward, or what formerly was the Borough of Mahoningtown, January 11, 1896, the ordinance stating that by virtue of the annexation a policeman should be appointed at a rate of $50 per month. Included in his duties were that of acting as health officer.

No more than three bicycles could be propelled abreast of each other in 1895, according to another old ordinance, adopted August 13, in that year. Each bicycle was supposed to have a bell or gong which was to be sounded at all crossings. A bicycle or tricycle was not allowed to be operated more than eight miles an hour, unless the chief of police gave permission for faster speed.

On June 30, 1897, the lawmakers dealt with drays, hacks and other vehicles for hire. According to the law all vehicles offered for hire were called upon to "park" in South street between South Jefferson street and apple way. The law prohibited the horse and wagons from being parked in front of any dwelling or store. Violation thereof called for a fine of $5.

There was a time when merchants could display their goods on the sidewalk—but no more than three feet from the building line. However, on Saturday nights they had to rid the sidewalks of their goods for inspection in order that there be no obstructions to pedestrians. An ordinance to this effect was adopted November 18, 1895. Nowadays no obstructions are allowed on sidewalks.

Gordon Gibson Home After Night Flight

Night flying, which was inaugurated some time ago at the New Castle airport, was resumed again during the past couple of days.

Gordon Gibson, of this city, a student at Wilson Aviation, accompanied by an instructor, has returned from a night trip to Erie, Cleveland and Youngstown, landing at the New Castle airport.

Many proposed flights from the New Castle airport have had to be cancelled due to the inclement weather which has kept most of the planes grounded.

HOLD UP CAR BARNS
PITTSBURGH, May 22.—(INS)—Three armed gunmen held up the Carrick streetcar barn today and escaped with $149, police reported.

Paul Hartigan, an inspector for the Pittsburgh Railways company, fired a shot at the fleeing bandits.

Two Named From Lawrence County

M. W. Hart And F. E. Moore Are Named On National Committees

(Special To The News)

NEW YORK, May 22.—Merle W. Hart, secretary-treasurer of Interstate Creamery, Inc., New Castle, and F. E. Moore, president of Matthews Conveyor company, Ellwood City, have been named to serve this year on important committees of the National Association of Manufacturers. It was announced at NAM headquarters here today.

Mr. Hart has been appointed to the tax administration committee which has as its goal a simpler tax law capable of administration with less friction, delay and interference with legitimate business activity.

The patents and research committee to which Mr. Moore has been assigned, gives its consideration to all proposals designed to strengthen the patent system, as well as any which, in its view, would weaken the system.

These and the other standing committees named by NAM formulate the association's policies and help determine the official position of industry on controversial issues.

'Y' CAMPAIGN REPORT FRIDAY

Team workers engaged in raising $9,588 in the local effort to supplement the World Youth Fund campaign of the Y. M. C. A. will make their second report to the association Friday. It was announced today by General Secretary Robert L. Meermans.

Initial report of the campaign workers was very gratifying, and it is hoped that Friday's returns will find most of the prospects canvassed.

The New Castle total will be raised over a three-year period and will be part of the $8,650,000 goal set nationally to rebuild the "Y" movement in 17 war-torn nations.

YOUNG PROGRESSIVES

Young Progressives members will meet in the club rooms Friday evening at 8 o'clock with plans for the summer to be discussed.

LOST TIME

ITHACA—(INS)—Spring cleaning pays dividends. Helping Mrs. Paul Lisenring do a little gardening at her yard, Christopher (Kippy) Kane, young son of Robert J. Kane, Cornell athletic director, and Mrs. Kane, raked out an extra big rakeful of dead leaves from under the barberry hedge. With it, he brought out Mrs. Lisenring's wrist watch which had been missing for more than three years. When wound, the watch started, and has been ticking merrily ever since.

Around Hollywood

By JOHN TODD

International News Service Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, May 22.—Hollywood's No. 1 wanderer, Errol Flynn, already is making plans for next year. He intends to go to Africa on a hunting expedition.

He said: "I call it a hunting trip, but I expect that I'll do more hunting with a camera than with a gun. I've never been much on killing things."

Errol said he plans to make the trip with a couple of friends. "We'd probably be gone three months. I imagine we'd go somewhere in the Kenya area, or north of it."

Errol definitely won't use his schooner, in which he cruised the better part of six months recently, to go to Africa. "It's too easy to fly there these days," he said.

He sailed from San Diego last August 14 and spent considerable time off the coast of Lower California. Then he went through the Panama Canal to Jamaica, B. W. I. The schooner is now tied up at Port Antonio there.

Errol got back in time for the birth of their second child, Rory, last March 12.

Right now he's busy in "Silver River" for Warners and busy is the word for it. The script calls for him to work every day of the three months shooting schedule.

He said: "I expect to get in two pictures this year, or at least start a second one. Then I'll have to make arrangements with the studio for the African trip. I don't expect to have any trouble over that."

Taking Sun Baths
Martha Vickers came driving along in her convertible and stopped. She was looking wonderful. Your reporter remarked as much.

"Oh," said Martha, "I've been taking sun baths and I've lost some weight too."

"When you're not in a picture you get to eating too much."

"For one thing, I've been taking ballet lessons for the past month. They're a wonderful conditioner and I love it anyhow."

"I guess I am a frustrated ballerina."

Martha laughed and said: "I'll tell you something else, too. For a couple of days I went to a weight reducing class in Hollywood. All of the other women were great big fat ones."

Amusing Experience
"One of them came over, looked at me and asked, 'How long have you been taking this reducing course. I told her that it was my first day."

"It was funny, but none of the big fat women spoke to me after that."

"But I had to give up that class after a couple of days. Between that and the ballet lessons I was losing too much weight."

Harlansburg High Junior Class Play At Liberty Grange

The Junior class of the Scott Township High school at Harlansburg will present a play "The Girl Who Looks Like Me" Friday evening, May 23, at 8 o'clock, E.S.T. in the Liberty Grange Hall on the Harlansburg road.

The complete cast of the play is as follows: Joseph Casey, a young detective, William Schlipf; Miss Redmond, manager of the Reliable Employment Agency, Jane McCann; Miss Sophie Morrison, a rich old lady, Glenna McCracken; Helen Zaisa.

The action of the play takes place in the home of Miss Sophie Morrison, an eccentric wealthy recluse, whose otherwise peaceful life is disturbed by the disappearance of many valuable family possessions from the premises. The robberies which have occurred at intervals over a period of years, remain unsolved until the arrival of Joseph Casey, a young detective, who solves the mystery when he assumes the dual role in the household.

The play is filled with thrills, romances, suspense and many laugh provoking situations. The production is under the direction of Miss Mary Lou Sewall, while interlude music will be furnished by the High School orchestra.

Parade And Final Review At Harrisburg To Sound 'Taps' For Guardsmen

HARRISBURG, May 22.—(INS)—Taps will sound for the wartime Pennsylvania Guard on Flag Day, June 14.

The guardsmen who took over the security job of the State National Guard during the war will be disbanded by Gov. James H. Duff after a parade through Harrisburg and a final review at the Harrisburg military post.

The troops, commanded by Brig. Gen. Frank A. Weber, will bivouac in the Harrisburg area on June 13, and will be housed in the farm show building preparatory to the final ceremonies the next day. The official inactivation date will be June 16.

During the war, the guard had a peak strength of about 5,700 officers and men. It now brackets the 4th Infantry commanded by Col. Clifford H. Bortz, with headquarters in Allentown; the 16th Infantry, Col. Earle D. McCrea, Oil City; 1st Engineer Battalion, Lt. Col. Francis Fendell, Philadelphia; and Troop C Mechanized Cavalry, Capt. Charles A. Brame, Gettysburg.

Governor Duff is scheduled to address the organization at the final review. Guests will include U. S. Sen. Edward Martin, the former governor, Major Gen. M. S. Eddy, Second Army commander, and Maj. Gen. Milton G. Baker, former guard commander.

The guard was organized in 1941 when the National Guard was mustered into active service. Its mission was to protect the security of strategic bridges, highways and essential industries of the state, and assist in disaster work until the National Guard was mustered out of federal service following World War I.

Roadside Planting For 17 Counties Of State Is Planned

HARRISBURG, May 22.—The Department of Highways has under way 28 roadside planting projects in 17 counties which will cover 43.5 miles of highway.

The spring roadside planting involves seeding, mulching and, in some instances, planting. The cost of the program is approximately

The planting portion of the program includes the placing of 73,387 shrub type plants and 21,110 vines. These plants being used on slopes where soil and moisture conditions are such that grasses will not form a permanent sod cover. It is expected that the deeper rooted shrubs and vines will penetrate the soils of those areas requiring special treatment to a sufficient depth to withstand the damaging effects of erosion.

Roadside planting of vines, grasses and shrubs is not done solely for beautifying the highways. In addition to covering the jagged scars of deep cuts and fills, made necessary in the construction of modern highways, these plantings aid in reducing erosion. By the elimination of erosion the department is saved the expense of removing slides of rock and earth from the road shoulder, which frequently occur during spring thaws and after heavy rains.

In connection with other work such as cooperative planting and landscaping around department owned buildings and similar projects, 1220 deciduous and evergreen trees of various species will be planted. Virtually all of the material used in this spring planting will be furnished by the department's own nursery at Milton.

Baruch Proposes Overall Survey Of Europe's Needs

WASHINGTON, May 22.—(INS)—United States officials today were expected to lend a receptive ear to the proposal of Bernard M. Baruch, bipartisan presidential adviser of long standing, that a survey of Europe's overall recovery needs be decided in an International Conference.

None would comment publicly on Baruch's suggestion that a comprehensive program to help Europe recover its economic feet be adopted to replace the piecemeal program indicated in the Greek-Turkish aid bill and limited loans from the Export-Import Bank to other nations. However, it was generally believed that, if Congress can be made to face what the administration believes to be the facts, the mere decision to embark on such an overall aid program would do much to encourage general world confidence in the future.

Those who have been working on the problem of European reconstruction concede that progress at present is dishearteningly slow. They also believe that the situation creates a lack of faith in the United States at a time when it should be the hope of the non-totalitarian world.

She said the money would be used for furnishing a nurses' lounge when the school of nursing moves to a new building, and for laboratory and educational unit equipment.

Court At Greenville, South

GREENVILLE, S. C., May 22.—(INS)—Twenty-eight white men were free today of charges that they lynched 24-year-old Willie Earle, a negro, near Greenville last Feb. 17.

Ninety-eight separate verdicts acquitting them were returned last night by an all-white, all-male jury. There was no demonstration in the crowded courtroom as jury foreman Hugh Anderson began reading the verdicts at 10:21 p. m. Judge J. Robert Martin, Jr., had ordered that there be no vocal outburst when the decisions were announced, and he had directed 16 sheriff's deputies "to scatter all over this courtroom."

All 28 of the accused were ac-

Senator Byrd Against Tax Cut

WASHINGTON, May 22.—(INS)—Sen. Byrd (D) Va. called today for postponement of tax reductions and warned that it is "even possible" deficiency appropriations and foreign aid would wipe out any budget savings achieved by the Republican Congress.

Byrd, supporting a Democratic move to defer action on the GOP tax bill until June 10, opens the second day of Senate debate on the four billion dollar relief measure. A vote on the postponement motion of Sen. George (D) Ga. was expected tomorrow. Republican leaders, confident they can win, conceded nevertheless that the outcome is "very close."

Inland Steel President Sees Bright Future

Wilfred Sykes Says Steel Industry Will Have Vigorous, Fruitful Era

NEW YORK, May 22.—(INS)—Wilfred Sykes, president of the Inland Steel Company, Chicago, told the steel industry Wednesday that it can "look forward to a vigorous, fruitful and profitable future."

Sykes also declared that on the basis of present calculations, there is no need for any further expansion in the near future.

The Chicago steel manufacturer addressed the 55th general meeting of the American Iron and Steel Institute, shortly after Bethlehem's Eugene Grace eulogized the late Charles M. Schwab in the Institute's first 'Charles M. Schwab Memorial Lecture.'

Sykes told the industry representatives that the present steel production of more than 91 million tons annually is more than ample for the present, and should be sufficient for years to come.

He based his conclusion upon an analysis of the domestic per capita demand for steel during the period of 1920 to 1940 which indicated that the peak per capita consumption amounted to 978 pounds in 1929.

Sykes noted that while the present rate of operation exceeds the indicated maximum demand for steel per capita, this is a condition which he feels is only temporary.

Squelches Fears
The Inland Steel president also squelched fears that other metals and alloys would slice into the industry's production. He said:

"Steel is by far the most plentiful and the cheapest of the common metals and the easiest to reduce from its ores and the simplest to fabricate."

"The light metals and their alloys will not make inroads on the steel industry. They will create their own fields, and their production will continue to increase. So far there appears to be no substitute for steel."

Sykes said the iron ore outlook is good, but that "there are strong indications that scrap will continue in short supply for some time to come."

Grace, chairman of the board of Bethlehem Steel, added new anecdotes to the vast lore on the personality of Schwab, the steel maker, in his lecture.

He said that during the formation of Bethlehem, Schwab was turned down by the bankers but used his personal magnetism and confidence to persuade contractors to accept notes ranging from $20,000 to $200,000. He even prevailed upon the Lehigh Valley and the Philadelphia and Reading Railroads to accept freight on credit.

Said Grace: "The keynote to Mr. Schwab's genius was his ability to see things in simple, basic principles. He radiated vitality. He was tireless. He was warm-hearted and genuine. He was a great believer in the future of the manufacturing industries of the United States."

GIRLS NEED GOOD SEWING EQUIPMENT

Girls in Lawrence county who will take clothing as a 4-H Club project this summer will do well to select the equipment for their sewing boxes now. A well-equipped box speeds the progress of sewing.

A box should be large enough to contain the needed equipment and also provide space for the garment being made. If the garment is rolled or squeezed into a small box, it is difficult to do a good job.

Plus of good quality are a necessity in a sewing box. They will stay bright if put in the black paper in which they come and the package kept closed. For polishing rough or rusty needles, an emery bag is a handy item.

If a new tape measure is needed, select one with number printed on both sides, starting with "1" on opposite sides and opposite ends of the tape. With such markings, measuring can be started with either end of the tape that is picked up.

Sharp shears and scissors cut smoothly and easily. Oil them occasionally but be sure to wipe off excess oil before cutting.

A thumb should be part of the sewing equipment also. Be sure it fits the middle finger of the person who will be using it.

Other useful items in the club girls' sewing box are tailor's chalk, basting thread, thread in different colors, for making tailor's tacks, and thread of the right size and color for sewing.

Schooling Offered By Marine Corps

Educational Opportunities Available For Young Men Enlisting In Marine Corps Now

Splendid educational opportunities are now offered to young men enrolling in the U. S. Marine Corps. T-Sgt. L. H. Elder, non-commissioned officer in charge of U. S. Marine Corps Recruiting here announces:

Chief of these is the Marine Corps Institute, a correspondence school, which during war time aided many marines in completing high school, and to prepare for college. Beside high school and college courses, it offers many technical and special courses. It costs men in the Marine Corps nothing but the effort that they put forth to complete the course and obtain the certificate or diploma upon completion of each subject.

Besides the MCI, the Marine Corps has many trade schools which will teach a good trade and prepare a man for a good job in civilian life. It is also still possible for men enlisting to gain some educational benefits from the GI Bill of Rights. This is the way it works. A person enlisting has to spend 90 days on active duty in the Marines, before he can gain any benefits, that is 90 days on active duty before the declaration of the end of the national emergency by an act of Congress or the President. Then he is eligible for one year of college. After the first 90 days that he spends in the Marine Corps he will receive one month of schooling for each month that he puts on active duty, until the national emergency is declared over. At the termination of the national emergency he is not eligible for any schooling.

THOUSANDS OF TOURISTS VISIT STATE IN YEAR

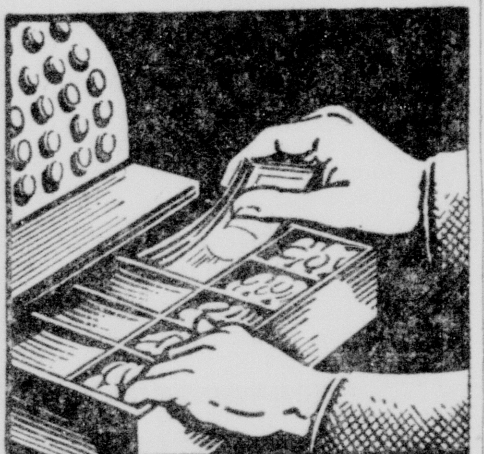

HARRISBURG, May 22.—The Pennsylvania Department of Commerce every year spends thousands of dollars in advertising the attractions of the state to summer and winter tourists from other parts of the country. Hundreds of thousands of visitors annually come from outside the state's borders, so that Pennsylvania is today one of the leading vacation areas in our country, with estimated yearly receipts from tourist travel of more than $400,000,000.

Yugoslav Exodus From Canada Is To Be Probed Now

OTTAWA, May 22.—(INS)—Prime Minister Mackenzie King promised a thorough investigation into the exodus of 1,500 Yugoslav-Canadians to their homeland.

The prime minister was questioned in Commons Tuesday night and said he would find out if permits had been granted the Yugoslavs to take two million dollars worth of capital out of the dominion.

Meanwhile the Yugoslavs are gathering in Montreal awaiting their departure in the next few days. Their leaders have denied they are Communists or that pressure had been applied by the Red-dominated government of Yugoslavia to force them to return. The leaders said the Yugoslavs were returning solely to help rebuild their native country.

NATIVE TO EAT 55 EGGS
A South African native has wagered, in Potchefstroom, that he can eat 55 eggs at a sitting. He is in training. Previously, he had won a bet by eating 36 boiled eggs "straight off", but failed in an attempt to consume 48. This, he attributed to the lard in which the hen fruit had been cooked, which he said was too much for him. He managed to down 40 eggs, however, and will see that less fat is used next time. The native weighs 120 pounds and eats bread with his eggs.

Modern Transportation Needs Good Equipment

Modern motor truck transportation calls for a number of things, intelligent personnel, keen management, but not the least of the requirements are good trucks and trailers.

There isn't any motor truck any better than the Federal. And for trailers, American Super Cargo Bantam and Kingham have what it takes to get cargoes over the road. We handle all three pieces of equipment.

Court House

Sentences Are Passed In Court

Several Persons Hear Verdict Of Court As Result Of Law Infringement

OTHER NEWS OF COURT HOUSE

Getting new automobiles these days sometimes calls for help from a friend. That may be one reason why James Farrell was before Judge John G. Lamoree on Wednesday morning on three charges of fraudulent conversion to which he pleaded. It was charged that in three different instances Farrell had taken money from citizens for which he promised to produce either a car or a truck. In neither case did he produce the car or truck causing the potential purchaser more or less annoyance.

Judge Lamoree sentenced Farrell to pay $1 and costs on each of the three charges, and undergo imprisonment in the Lawrence county jail for a period of 11 to 22 months in each case, the sentences to run consecutively or a total of 33 to 66 months in the county jail.

He is also to make restitution of $683 in the first case, $750 in the second case, and $1295 in the third case. He is to repay the amounts at the rate of $100 per month in each case.

Other sentences passed by Judge Lamoree were: H. C. Moore and Charles Caldwell, driving while intoxicated. Each fined $100 and costs and thirty days in the county jail, out in three days if the fine and costs are paid.

James A. Thompson, on a forgery charge was placed upon probation for two years upon payment of a fine of $1 and the costs of the case.

DELAY LETTING BID

Once again the bid for the washer for the county home was delayed when on Wednesday morning representatives of the two competing bidders appeared before the county commissioners. The machines are both said to be good, but it is argued for one that it has entirely automatic controls. The other has many controls but lacks one or two but is also $400 cheaper. The bid will be let Monday.

DIVORCE REFUSED

In an opinion handed down Wednesday by Judge W. Walter Braham, the divorce libel of Belle Kraus against Maurice J. Kraus is refused and the costs divided. In his opinion Judge Braham said the evidence "is lacking the element of willful intention to injure, hurt or humiliate the plaintiff." The charge was indignities and desertion.

CONDITION OF TREASURY
As of April 30, the Lawrence county treasury had in it, $537,096.64 according to a statement by County Treasurer Frank W. Hill. This is the combined total of funds and does not mean that this much is available for general county purposes.

In the general fund there is $157,540.05. In the Institution Fund, $73,492.69. In the Gasoline fund, $53,989.90 for use and $94,467.32 in the sinking fund. The Road and School Fund contains $2,757.90. The commissioners' sales fund contains $78,- 209.90, the Suspense Account $8,163, and the Commissioners' Owner Property fund, $59,075.08.

RIO SHORT OF HOMES

Rio de Janeiro has one of the world's most acute housing shortages. Estimates are that the Brazilian capital's population has increased by a half a million in the last few years and there is a grave lack of living space on all social levels. Both Rio and Sao Paulo found, that inflation led to a flocking of country folk to the cities to seek their fortunes and hotels are jammed with would-be long-term residents. This is proving a serious handicap to Brazil's attempt to recapture much of the tourist trade.

"Cosmic rays" are composed of protons of extra-terrestrial origin which reach the earth's atmosphere and break up by explosion or collision, forming sprays of smaller particles called mesons, or mesotrons or narytrons. These are computed to have a life span of 2.8 millionths of a second, according to the post-war supplement of the Columbia Encyclopedia.

Ask For Probe Of Alleged Violations Of Preference Act

HARRISBURG, May 22.—(INS)—A Congressional investigation of alleged violations of the Veterans Preference Act at the Army Air Forces depot near Harrisburg was demanded by Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 1462 of Wormleysburg.

State VFW headquarters said the resolution, approved by the organization's Cumberland County Council, was introduced by three sworn statements from ex-servicemen alleging irregularities.

"The VFW Post asks that the resolution be forwarded to Washington to be placed before the Veterans Relations Committee of the House of Representatives and that the practices of the MAMA be the subject of a Congressional investigation," the state headquarters reported.

The depot is known officially as the Middletown Air Materiel Area. Col. David R. Stinson, depot commandant, said he had not received any reports of dissatisfaction but announced he would welcome a VFW committee.

The post's resolution claimed that veterans employed at the depot had been subjected to downgrading, unmerited reprimands, unscrupulous use of the efficiency rating system to deprive them of retention points, reinstatements of non-veterans in preference to ex-servicemen and malassessments leading to dismissals.

The State VFW did not indicate whether it would approve the resolution.

Annual Report By Y-Teen Committee Given At Y.W.C.A.

Annual report of the Y-Teen committee which was submitted by chairman, Mrs. G. R. Throop, and co-chairman, Miss Jessica Jenkins, at the 39th annual troop meeting of Y. W. C. A. follows:

Y-Teen clubs of the junior and senior high schools have had a profitable year in spite of the fact that there has been no Y-Teen director. Miss Mary Tabisz, the International Institute director, has given what available time she had to this work and has been very helpful. We are happy to announce a new and very active club at Union high school due to the able response Miss Tabisz gave these girls when they requested her aid in forming their club.

There are ten clubs with a total membership of 544. The advisors have done a grand piece of work for which the Y. W. C. A. is very grateful. They met some four or five times during the year to plan for their work and discuss work being done in their clubs.

Following are the names of the clubs with their advisors:

Senior H. S.—Miss Janet Breanman.

Shenango, with two clubs—Mrs. Russell Cline.

George Washington Jr. H. S., with two clubs—Miss Jessica Jenkins, Miss Mary Ramsey.

Elm street branch of Y. W. C. A. with two clubs—Miss Rosa Brown.

Union high school—Mrs. Wilda Kraus, Miss Paden.

Ben Franklin Jr. H. S.—Miss Margaret Barnes, Mrs. Margaret Sanfilippo.

J. P. Byers Jr. H. S.—Miss Margaret Daugherty. We would have a much desired club at Mahoningtown if we could get an adviser in Mahoningtown.

Besides the parties and dances enjoyed by the various clubs, projects were accomplished by all of them. Foremost among the projects was the work done by the girls for the national Y. W. C. A. reconstruction fund. All clubs contributed and a total of $132.21 was given by the Y-Teens.

At the beginning of the year the name "Y-Teens" was adopted in place of "Girl Reserves"—this was suggested by the national convention as the name preferred throughout the country by the girls.

Highlighting the year's work were the two teas given on April 23 and 28 for all Y-Teen members and their mothers. Mrs. J. J. McIlvaine spoke at each tea, her subject being "Friendliness in the Home—in the Club—in the World." These teas were well attended, over 150 being at each tea.

Fall Of The Northern Kingdom

Highlights On The Sunday School Lesson

Naaman.

"God is our refuge and strength, a very present help in trouble."—Psalm 46:1.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL
(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for May 25 is 1 Kings 5:1-15, 15:8-17:41; Isaiah 28:1-4, the Memory Verse being Psalm 46:1, "God is our refuge and strength, A very present help in trouble.")

"Now Naaman, captain of the host of the king of Syria, was a great man with his master, and honorable, because by him the Lord had given deliverance unto Syria; he was also a mighty man in valour, but he was a leper."

In one of the raids made by the Syrians, the soldiers had brought a little Israelite maiden as a captive, and she waited on Naaman's wife. "And she said unto her mistress, Would God my lord were with the prophet that is in Samaria! for he would recover him of his leprosy."

Someone told the master what the little girl had said, and the king of Syria wrote a letter to the king of Israel telling him that he, the king of Syria, was sending his servant, Naaman, to him to be cured of leprosy. The king of Israel read the letter and tore his robe, saying, "Am I God, to kill and to make alive, that this man doth send unto me to recover a man of leprosy? Wherefore consider I pray you, and see how he seeketh a quarrel against me."

When Elisha heard that the king had rent his clothes and thought the king was trying to pick a quarrel with him, he said, "Let him come now to me, and he shall know that there is a prophet in Israel."

Naaman Goe To Elisha
So Naaman came to Elisha with his horses and his chariot and gifts, and stood at Elisha's door. Now Elisha did not come down to see Naaman himself, but he sent a messenger to him, telling him to go to the river Jordan, wash himself in the water seven times, and he would be clean.

Naaman flew into a rage at this message. Probably he felt he had not been shown the proper respect due to one of his station, because Elisha had not come to talk to him. "Behold, I thought, he will surely come out to me, and stand, and call on the name of the Lord his God, and strike his hand over the place, and recover the leper," he said.

And as for the river Jordan, why could he not wash in one of the rivers of Syria and be clean? They were much less muddy than the Jordan. However, his servants, who seem to have been fond of him, said, "My father, if the prophet had bid thee do some great thing, wouldst thou not have done it? How much rather then, when he saith to thee, Wash, and be clean."

That must have seemed like commonsense to Naaman, so he went to the river Jordan, dipped himself seven times in the water, and his flesh came again like unto the flesh of a little child, and he was clean."

Naaman went back to Elisha and offered him gifts, but he would take nothing, so Naaman told him he would offer no more sacrifices to strange gods, but only to the Lord.

Fall Of The Kingdom

This story of the healing of the captain by the power of God is the first part of our lesson; the rest deals with the fall of the northern kingdom because of the people's wickedness and disobedience to God. As we noted in our last lesson, Israel rose to its height in power and prosperity in the reign of Jeroboam II. This monarch was followed by his son, Zechariah, who was murdered after a six months' reign, by Shallum, who reigned for only one month and was killed by Menahem. At this time Tiglath-pileser, king of Syria, invaded the kingdom of Israel and exacted an enormous tribute from the king of the now weakened empire. The king took the money from the wealthy men of his kingdom who had piled up fortunes when Jeroboam II was king.

Menahem was succeeded by his son, Pekahiah, who was assassinated by Pekah. Pekah opposed the Assyrians, but he was slain by Hoshea I and his followers. He was a tool of Assyria.

Isaiah, the prophet, prophesied the downfall of Israel, saying, "Woe to the crown of pride, to the drunkards of Ephraim, whose glorious beauty is a fading flower, which are on the head of the fat valleys of them that are overcome with wine." The crown of the pride, the drunkards of Ephraim, shall be trodden under feet. And the glorious beauty, which is on the head of the fat valley, shall be a fading flower, and as the hasty fruit before the summer; when he that looketh upon it seeth, while it is yet in his hand he eateth it up."

Hoshea was a wicked king, although not as bad as some of the others. It was during his reign that Israel fell. Hoshea was taken captive and held a hostage for the payment of tribute, and the hordes of Assyrians poured into Israel. Samaria was besieged, and although it held out for three years, it was finally captured and the Israelites were carried off into slavery once more. This took place in 722 B. C. ## British Labor Party Harshly Accuses Soviet

Vigorous Condemnation Expected To Bring Bitter Attack On Bevin Monday

LONDON, May 22.—(INS)—The British Labor Party's vigorous condemnation of Soviet foreign policy brought expectations today of a bitter leftwing attack on Foreign Secretary Bevin at the party's annual conference at Margate Monday.

The harsh language of the party's pamphlet towards Russia surprised British politicians. They had expected a more conciliatory attitude towards the Laborite Leftwingers, who have been sharply critical of Bevin's foreign policy, especially in regards to Russia.

The pamphlet saluted the Truman policy in the Middle East for "putting the cards on the table." It declared that American aid to Greece and Turkey "is about to take the weight of Russian expansion off British shoulders."

Russia was accused of "lack of faith in the establishment of an international rule of law and the use of international institutions to secure immediate national advantages."

The pamphlet declared that Russia attempted to destroy Britain's freedom of initiative with a double-edged weapon. This was defined as:

1.—A series of propaganda attacks through the United Nations and the international Communist machine.
2.—Efforts to tip the scale against Britain in important strategic areas by diplomacy or direct action in Trieste, Northern Iran, the Dardanelles, Greece, Turkey and Eastern Europe.

Referring to Soviet propaganda, the pamphlet said:
"The damage done to British prestige abroad by such lies should not be ignored."

SEES LIMITLESS FUTURE FOR U. S. IF REDS SQUELCHED

PHILADELPHIA, May 22.—(INS)—Former Gov. John C. Bell, Jr., predicted a "limitless future" for America if the trend toward Communism and totalitarianism abroad and in South America is halted.

Bell told an "I Am An American Day" audience that "one of the most important duties of every American citizen is to oppose Communism with every power he has."

"It may be well to recall," he said, "that our country was built and became the greatest nation in the world not by Communism or Fascism or totalitarianism; not by regimentation or bureaucracy; not by privilege or rationing; not by political directives or dictatorship."

"It was built by the arduous labor, the rugged, resourceful individualism and inventive genius of free men and free women who had an abiding faith in God."

Report Powerful New Drug Found On Bikini Atoll

PHILADELPHIA, May 22.—(INS)—A promising new drug in the streptomycin family was reported to have been found in the soil of Bikini atoll, scene of last year's atomic bomb tests.

Dr. Donald B. Johnstone, chief of the New Jersey agricultural experiment station at New Brunswick, reported the discovery at the 47th general meeting of the society of American bacteriologists.

He said that the new drug—called "streptomycin II—Bikiniensis"—inhibits the growth of many bacteria and has been found twice as powerful as streptomycin in checking tuberculosis germs.

Dr. Johnstone emphasized, however, that the drug has thus far been used successfully only on chick embryos.

The soil's germ-inhibiting properties, he said, had nothing to do with atomic energy.

Such soil may exist "in a thousand other places," Dr. Johnstone said, in explaining that he found it on Bikini because he was there as a scientific observer of "operation crossroads."

House Approves Outlawing Strikes By Public Employees

HARRISBURG, May 22.—(INS)—Legislation to outlaw strikes by public employees and teachers and prohibit pay discrimination because of sex cleared through the House and was sent to the Senate Wednesday shortly after lawmakers began debating the administration five-point labor program.

The bill to forbid walkouts of government employees passed by a vote of 124 to 61 despite strong protests by Democrats who described it as "a very bad measure" and claimed it was punitive in respect to teachers. The other measure was approved unanimously.

The first duel in which a president of the United States took part was fought in 1806, when Andrew Jackson shot and killed Charles Dickinson. However, Jackson did not become president until March 4, 1829.

Has Peculiarly Marked Moth

Rev. 13-16, "The Sign of the Beast", are but a few of the thoughts that occurred to Donald G. Baker of Ellwood City, layman Pentecostal minister, when he caught the peculiarly marked moth shown as an insert in the above photo.

Mr. Baker is a millworker at the National Tube Co. in Ellwood with preaching as a hobby. On catching the strange moth that flew through an open window, three years ago this week, in the plant where he works, Mr. Baker wondered at its markings. In studying the moth he discovered that he could make out numerals and letters on its wings. Among the markings he found "W" and "44." Shortly thereafter the war in Europe reached its crisis. Further study revealed "N.Y." and "47." Recently a smallpox epidemic broke out in New York City in coincidence with the markings on the moth.

Other figures Mr. Baker found in the markings on the insect's wings are the letters K, M, B, X, V, and H. On examining the head under a magnifying glass there can be seen the head and cloak quite similar to that of some of the clergy.

Donald Baker with his wife, Ethel, and son, Hiram, lives at 631 Crescent avenue in Ellwood. They have been residents of that city for about eight years.

Urges Adoption Of Tax Cut Bill

CHICAGO, May 22.—(INS)—Robert R. Wason, chairman of the board of the National Association of Manufacturers, today urged adoption of the Knutson tax bill which he claimed was "being footballed by the Senate."

Speaking before the Midwest Industrial Conference in Chicago, Wason also urged support of a business tax reduction bill.

He declared: "In America the abilities and savings of millions of men are restricted by government taxes. 'Enterprise cannot hire men until it first hires money.' Wason charged that taxes were preventing American industry from tooling up for the production of countless new post-war machines, processes and products that will create completely new industries. The NAM official asserted that unless President Truman quits interfering with the economy, 'he will have a depression right in his lap.' Wason added: 'The President cannot expect production to expand as the government takes the income that supplies jobs. He demands reduction of prices and refuses to reduce by a dime the federal income taxes that are a first lien on every asset and on every job in America.'

Wampum And Union Await Section 8 WPIAL Title Battle Friday

Winner Enters Eliminations In Western District

Expect Crowd Of 1,500 To See Heated Schoolboy Baseball Contest, At Bessemer

GAME STARTS AT 3 O'CLOCK, EST

All you can hear in Wampum and Union Township today is baseball—and all because Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock EST at the Bessemer High field these two schoolboy teams will battle it out for Section 8 WPIAL title.

The Wampum and Union teams ended their sectional play tied up at 9 wins and one defeat each, the Union High 10 to 3 win at Union in the disputed game played Tuesday caused the deadlock. Wampum had come down to the last game undefeated in nine straight contests, then Union did it.

Expected Large Crowd
So, tomorrow afternoon some 1,500 fans, students and cheerleaders will gather at the neutral Bessemer High field to settle the issue. Interest in the game in both schools is at fever heat today.

Coach Pat Patterson of Union will pitch either Stan Kupiec or Hoover, and in all probability may use both boys to make certain they win. Coach Butler Henson of Wampum, will probably start his ace Kosior with Armatorio and Procopio in reserve.

Union Lineup Announced
Patterson has announced his following lineup—W. Kupiec, young freshman catcher; R. Conti at short, Donnie Leeper at third, Jim Smith in left, Lou Potunio in center, F. Szweczyk in right, A. Conti at first base, and Zelina at first base, the only doubtful starter is Zelina and it may be that Hoover will be moved to first and A. Conti on second, to give the Scotties a better batting punch.

The admission for the game is 25 cents for everyone, fans and students alike. The winner Friday will meet the Section 7 champions in the first elimination game next Monday or Tuesday. Sharon High won the Section 7 title.

Pozzy To Box In Ellwood Tuesday

Dapper Dan Club of Ellwood City will feature Billy Pozzy of Ellwood City against Johnny Santelli of Canton in the main bout of their show which will be a benefit for the Ellwood City High football camp next fall. They will battle at 6:45 p. m. D.S.T. Tuesday in Ellwood City. Elkins Brothers and Guy Elisco, both of New Castle and Ike Bell of Youngstown, will face opponents the same night.

Tanner And Barber Making Grade With Owensboro Club

New Castle can be proud of two of its youths they have sent into organized baseball, seeking money to complete the long climb into the "Big Show."

The two Lawrence county athletes, who aspire someday to wear the lively of the Boston Braves are the lively of the Owensboro club.

Earl Browne

Charles "Lefty" Tanner and Jack Barber, both of whom are regulars on the Owensboro, Ky., club of the Killy team, a farm team of the Beantown National League.

Manager Writes
Earl Browne, pilot of the Kentucky team, who has been looking at young hopefuls for the past 19 years, has written here lavishly praising New Castle's donation to his team.

"Tanner is one of the finest prospects I have seen in my long baseball career," states Browne, "an athlete who has all the necessary talent to make a real star. He is well-liked by his teammates and the fans and it will be hard to keep him from ascending the ladder if he continues his fine play here."

Hitting Ball Hard
Browne went on to say that "Lefty" is clouting the ball at a 380 to 400 clip. He will become an even more effective batsman when he perfects his stance, Browne writes. Then he should get more distance into his hits.

The ex-Shenango high school three-lettr winner is also agile in the field, handling his center field spot with the Oilers in classy fashion.

Barber Has Stuff
Browne admitted that he had not given Barber the once-over that he had Tanner but he holds high hope that the young pitcher with the powerful arm will fit into his first line array of moundsmen.

"This is Jack's first year up with the club," said Browne, "and he has pitched and won his first game. He had lots of support that day but he showed me enough stuff to merit regular duty in the box."

Tanner completed a season with the Oilers in 1946 while Barber and Jimmy Grimen of Wampum were given once-overs at Owensboro early this spring.

Local fans are pulling strongly for the young aspirants to make the grade. Perhaps in the not too distant future when New Castleites visit Forbes field it will be Barber taking his warm-up pitches on the hill for the Braves and "Lefty" trotting out to his garden patrol. Many of their supporters hope it becomes a reality.

Idle Giants See Cubs Pass Them In Hectic Race

Giants Winners Of 7 Out Of 8 On Western Trip, Face Braves Friday

YANKEES LAMBAST TIGERS, NEWHOUSER

By LOU GARAVENTE

NEW YORK, May 22.—Having discovered the one thing able to stop them in the west, yesterday's rain in Cincinnati, the suddenly pennant-conscious Giants were back on the Atlantic seaboard today, only to face a fresh challenge. It will come from the third-place Boston Braves in a four-game series, beginning tomorrow and ending with a Sunday double-header.

It will ask a few insistent questions of Mel Ott's skippy backleg of pitching. But the Giants were a confident lot en route to Boston, for which their 7 out of 8 in the west seemed ample justification. It was the most successful swing any Giant team has sponsored in upward of 10 years.

Cubs Take Lead
Idleness and the Cubs' 2-1 verdict over the Phillies conspired yesterday to unseat the New Yorkers from the National League's to-roost, but even that unwelcome event registered with no more than glancing blow on their self-esteem. They were frankly talking "pennant," as perhaps belittled a club that had lost only 4 of its last 16 games.

Meanwhile, the confusing and unpredictable rival New York team, the Yankees, upset a Detroit apple cart with a 5-0 victory last night. Hal Newhouse and his league-leading cast.

The Dodgers tallied once in the tenth inning and snuffed out a Cardinal rally on a bullet peg by Carl Furillo to defeat their nemesis Harry Brecheen 4 to 3.

Boston and Pittsburgh were not scheduled.

Three Night Games
In the American League, night games were the rule. The only day game scheduled—Cleveland-Boston—was postponed on account of rain.

The two "low" teams in the American League, the St. Louis Browns and the Washington Senators tangled at the nation's capital. Ol' Showboat Bobo Newsum scattered seven Browns hits to gain the nod 7 to 3 over Muddy Ruel's cellar confined Missourians.

The Athletics put an abrupt end to a four-game White Sox winning streak by rallying for five runs in the eighth to clip the Pale Hose 5 to 2.

BRONZE ARRANGES TWO EXHIBITIONS

Jay-Bees Will Play Columbus Club Friday At E. & A.; At Bessemer Saturday

Manager Michael Diffley of the Johnson Bronze baseball club announced today that two exhibition games have been arranged to be played Friday and Saturday. The Friday night game at the E. & A. field will find the Columbus Club as the opponents. Saturday afternoon the Jay-Bees go to Bessemer for a battle at 2:30 o'clock (EST).

Diffley could not say this morning what kind of a lineup he will use in the two games. He is after several well-known local and out-of-town stars and has high hopes of landing them.

The Columbus Club-Bronze game Friday will be the first appearance of the year for the Jay-Bees, and no doubt a large crowd will wend their way to the E. & A. field for the contest.

WILL PLAY TONIGHT
The Duca D'Abuzzi softball team will play the East Side Merchants at the Hickory Heights field tonight at 6 o'clock in a postponed game from last night. It was announced by Manager Jimmy Valentini.

BARONS RELEASE HERMAN
UNIONTOWN, Pa., May 22.—(INS)—The Uniontown Coal Barons today had released outright second baseman Billy Herman, Jr., son of the manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates. Young Herman had played in only one game this season.

Brothers Stops Ronzi In Second

Right Drops Ronzi Who Gets Up Only To Run Into Another Right To Jaw

BRADLEY DEFEATS CHARLIE PASTOVICH

Two knockouts, two technical knockouts and seven knockdowns featured last night's Evening's Events in The Arena which found Elkins Brothers of this city scoring a knockout over Rizzieri Ronzi of Youngstown in the second chapter. Brothers decided Ronzi several weeks ago here. They are heavyweights.

Rizzieri started like a house afire, clipping Brothers with a right to the head then eluded Brothers to the ropes where they slugged, the Youngstown boy having the best of the exchange.

Brothers sent a right to the jaw but Ronzi came back and drove Brothers to the ropes. Brothers put a right to the jaw. Both then put rights to the head. Brothers flashed a left to the face.

Brothers backed around the ring. The bell ended the first round but they continued to punch each other, and one of Brothers' rights to the jaw caused Rizzieri's knees to buckle.

The second opened with Brothers sending a hard right to the jaw. He slipped to the floor. Rizzieri drove Brothers to the ropes, landing a right to the head.

Brothers sent a dazzling right to the face. Both landed rights to the head. Brothers delivering the cleaner punches, after which they stood toe to toe, and exchanged punches to the head.

Brothers sent two rights to the jaw, the last right fell Rizzieri like a log. He got up at nine only to run into a volley of punches that drove him toward the north side of the ring.

A right hit Ronzi's jaw. It drove him into the ropes where he hung for a second, then his body toppled from the middle stand upon which he stood. He fell back and counted him out.

Bradley Wins Unanimous Decision
Bill Bradley of New Castle and Charlie Pastovich of Youngstown fought three fast rounds at 160 with Bradley winning the unanimous decision, as predicted.

Bradley forced the fighting in the first, which was about even. In the second round Bradley put a left to the face, right to the body and left to the face.

Pastovich bled from the nose. Bradley jabbed with his left and followed with a left hook to the jaw and then crossed his left to the head. Suddenly, Pastovich shot a beautiful right that landed flush on Bradley's jaw and he dropped to the canvas like a plumb line. He got up but was groggy and the bell, ending the second round, came to his aid.

Bradley came out refreshed for the third and received two rights to the head and a left to the face and then was slammed into the ropes. Bradley jabbed. The force of the blow almost tumbled Bradley.

He staggered back, his body beat but his haunch did not touch the floor. He put a left to the body but Bradley caught him with a left to the head that knocked him down for a count of nine.

Knocked Down Twice
Pastovich got up groggy and was knocked down again for a count of nine. He arose, fought desperately but Bradley had too much fire in his gloves and at the end of the bout received the unanimous decision.

Derby Brena of Sharon, 16 years old, stood half a head taller than Billy Underwood of Youngstown, at 130 and outboxed Underwood in every round. He boxed a cool, deliberate fight, taking advantage of every misdeed by Underwood.

Results of other fights:
Willie Bosco, Butler, scored a technical knockout over Tommy Dye, Youngstown, in the second round, 123 pound class. Bosco scored two knockdowns in the second round.

Danny Belvedere, Youngstown, knocked out Willie Brown, Warren, in third round, 150 pound class.

Derby Brennan, Sharon, decisioned Billy Underwood, Youngstown, three rounds, 130 pound class.

Jimmy Zeka, Sharon, scored a technical knockout over Leonard Pilioli, Youngstown, in third round. Zeka scored a knockdown in the second and Pilioli failed to come out for the third round.

Pete Misto, Youngstown, decisioned Frankie Wooten, Youngstown, in three rounds, 160 pound class.

Calvin Hill, Youngstown, decisioned Mike Flores, also Youngstown, in three rounds, 148 pound class.

Al Heimbach and Glenn Presley, 85 pounds each, both of Youngstown, put on a three round, one minute exhibition.

The amateur fights were staged by the Jefferson A.C., with the matches being made by Tommy Leach. The show was designed to benefit the S. of I. athletic fund. The gross receipts were $954. Seven hundred twenty nine saw the show.

The referees were Ray Leyschock, first four bouts, and Sam Leyschock, his father, both of Sharon, the last four bouts. Judges were Phil G. Greer and Bob Prazar and the time keeper, Humbert Pazzone. C. P. Walther did the announcing.

The next show will feature Bill Pozzy, June 16.

Football Official Dies In Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH, May 22.—(INS)—High mass will be sung tomorrow for Robert J. Nolte, 49, an official in interscholastic and inter-collegiate football, who died Tuesday following a long sickness.

He was a member of the Pittsburgh Chapter of the Eastern Association of Interscholastic Football Officials and the Allegheny-Kiski Valley Association.

West Penn-Ohio Golfers To Play Here On Sunday

Columbus-Indies Battle Tonight

Four Other Games On Schedule; Managers-Officials Meet Tonight

Two undefeated in four starts City baseball league teams—Columbus Club and the Lawrence Indies—will play the feature game tonight in the loop at the E. & A. field at 5:45 o'clock.

Four other games are on the card for tonight with the Dukes and South Hill idle in the league on account of teams dropping out.

Slovaks At Home
The Slovaks will open their home season at the Clifton Flats field by meeting the St. Margaret's team, and the Steve Russell managed Slovaks are confident of taking this one. The Slovaks-Ryantown game was washed out last night.

Len Gilbert and his West Side Tigers are at their home lot, Lee avenue, this evening with the Colored Spartans and hope to get started on a winning streak after several reverses. The Union Cities will be at the Washington High field to battle the Dewey A.C. team.

Meeting Tonight
The Universal-Sons of Italy game has been cancelled owing to a lack of playing field. Ryantown will go to West Pittsburgh for a contest with the "Gas Housers."

Following the games the managers and officials will have an important meeting at Carn's at 8 o'clock for cutting down of rosters to 25 men, and re-scheduling of postponed games. The loop has been hampered somewhat by rainy weather and lack of playing fields.

Sylvan Heights League Rained Out

Opening Contests Scheduled For Wednesday Evening Postponed Until Next Week

Rain forced a postponement of the matches scheduled for Wednesday, President Ben McCann announced today.

Even though rain had not fallen last evening, it had been decided to postpone the opener for a week, due to the soggy condition of the turf. Considerable damage would have resulted to the greens in their extremely wet condition, President McCann states.

Drivers Seek Permission To Race On May 30

INDIANAPOLIS, May 21.—(INS)—Members of the American Society of Professional Automobile Racing Tuesday awaited official action on their petition to compete in the Memorial Day "500" at the Indianapolis speedway.

The petition was under consideration by the speedway and the American Automobile Association contest board.

The ASPAR proposition, laid before the speedway management appeared to be the first break in the virtual boycott of the 500-mile speed contest by disgruntled drivers and car owners.

It was believed it would clear the way for participation by such name drivers as Rex Mays, Duke Nalon, Sam Hanks, Hal Cole, Duke Dinamore, Emil Andres, and others.

The ASPAR announced the boycott some time ago, after the speedway refused to increase prize money from $75,000 to $150,000. No ASPAR cars were entered before the April 15 deadline.

Nine Events At Canfield Track

Saturday night, May 24, another big nine event A.A.A. midget auto racing program will be held at Canfield fairgrounds under the floodlights featuring many of the top drivers of the midget racing world.

Workers this week are changing the position of the flood lights on the back stretch and also erecting a massive hub rail, and with the sun shining we have been having the past few days new records possibly will be established here this coming week end.

The gates will open as usual at 6:30—the time trials at 7:00 and the first event of the evening at 8:30 facing the flags of Starter Pappy Kountz.

Rain Washes Out County Loop Card

Steady downpour of rain interrupted County League action last night, causing the postponement of five scheduled games.

Teams will resume Friday evening, with another full round of tilts on the docket. Wampum's loop-leaders will be at St. Lucy's, Castlewood moves into Bessemer, Edenburg at New Galilee, Hillsville plays the Ellwood Vets in the Tube City and the Ellwood Moose is carded at Chewton field against the Wayne A. C.

One contest is scheduled for tonight if the weather permits — Edenburg at Bessemer in a game postponed from May 7.

Shenango High Tops Mt. Jackson

Shenango High baseball team won from the Mt. Jackson High team in a postponed Section 8 WPIAL game 2 to 1, with Rhodes the winning hurler and Butler the loser. Rhodes pitched a masterful one-hitter and fanned 16 batters. Rhodes belted the Mounties on strikeouts in the second, and third innings and had two strikeouts in the fourth when the third man up grounded out.

Score by Innings—
Shenango ..... 000 100 1—2 5 1
Mt. Jackson .... 100 000 0—1 1 1
Batteries: Shenango—Rhodes and Borsie; Mt. Jackson—Butler and Bader.
